ODD FELLOWSHIP.

Semi-Centennial Celebration in Philadelphia.

Public Exercises in the Academy of Music.

Grand Parade of Thirty Thousand Members of the Order.

Observances in This City and Elsewhere.

From the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, April 26.

Philadelphia presents an exceedingly gay and animated appearance to-day. In various parts of the city flags are floating, and many houses, public and private, are handsomely decorated. The hotels are all filled to their utmost capacity by strangers, and the streets in the centre of the city are lined with people. The occasion is the grand national celebration of the semi-centennial anniversary of Odd Fellowship. The Grand Lodge of the United States, at its meeting in September, 1868, directed that this celebration should take place in this city; and P. G. Sire KENNEDY, of New-York; P. G. Sire NICHOLSON, of Pennsylvania; P. G. Sire VEITCH, of Missouri; P. G. Sire PERKINS, of Pennsylvania; Grand Sire E. D. FARNSWORTH, of Tennessee, and Representatives FORD, of Massachusetts; GAREY, of Maryland; READ, of New-Jersey, and MARIS, of Delaware, were appointed a Committee to make the necessary arrangements for the celebration. The joint committees of the Lodges and Encampments in the city have held frequent meetings for months past, arranging plans for the event. The results of their labors are being witnessed by our citizens to-day.

This being a national celebration, it is participated in by numerous lodges and delegations from other States. As early as Saturday morning the strangers began to arrive in the city, and from that time until this morning, every train which reached here brought lodges, delegations and individual members of the Order, to take part in the exercises of to-day. The strangers in the city are now numbered by thousands. The hotel accommodations of the city are extensive, but on this occasion many of the visitors to the city were unable to secure quarters, and were provided for by members of the Order residing here.

THE SCENE ON BROAD-STREET.

At a very early hour this morning, the appearance of Broad-street, in front of the Academy of Music, gave evidence that some unusual event was about to transpire in that vicinity. Small knots of people assembled at the different corners, and as the hour of 9 o'clock approached the crowd increased until both sides of Broad-street, from Spruce to Walnut, presented a very animated appearance. A large police force was in attendance, and the pavements were kept clear for passers-by.

AT THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

The interior of the Academy, where the opening celebration of the day was to take place, was without decoration of any kind, with the exception of a white flag suspended over the centre of the stage, which contained, in red letters, the words "G. L. U. S.," above which were the letters I. O. O. F. This was the flag or standard of the Grand Lodge of the United States. A rostrum was placed directly in front of the stage, and an open space being left, on either side were ranged in semi-circular form a large number of arm-chairs for prominent officials who were to be present at the celebration. The orchestra was occupied by a band of forty picked musicians, under the direction of L. ENGELKE. At 9:20 o'clock the officers of the Grand Lodge of the United States appeared on the stage, headed by Mayor FOX and the Grand Sire of the Order, and took the positions assigned to them. The officers of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania and officers of the Grand Encampment of Pennsylvania occupied seats behind the officers of the Grand Lodge of the United States, and behind and around the latter were ranged a body of 100 singers. The appearance of the stage, with the handsome regalia of the Grand Officers, was very brilliant. The centre of the parquet was occupied by the Grand Lodge of Maryland, who marched into the building about 9 o'clock. This body wore bright red collars and looked well. The right of the parquet was occupied by the Grand Lodge of New-Jersey, and the left of the same was in possession of the Grand Lodge of the District of Columbia. The front of the parquet was assigned to officers of Grand Lodges of different jurisdictions. The members of the Grand Encampment of Pennsylvania occupied the left of the parquet circle. The balcony and upper tiers of the Academy were appropriated for and occupied by spectators at large, among whom were a large number of ladies and children. For some unaccountable reason the Academy was not crowded in any part. The balcony presented a tolerably full appearance, but with this exception the attendance was comparatively meagre. The exercises, however, were of a very impressive character, and commanded respectful attention.

The proceedings were opened by the performance of the overture to "Zampa" by the orchestra. The anniversary hymn, written by Brother B. P. SHILLABER, of Siloam Lodge, Boston, Mass., was sung by a chorus of 100 voices, accompanied by the orchestra. After prayer had been offered by Rev. J. W. VENABLE, R. W. Grand Chaplain, JOHN W. STOKES, P. G. M., of Philadelphia, Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements, delivered the address of welcome to the Grand Lodge of the United States. This was responded to by Grand Sire E. D. FARNSWORTH. An oration was then delivered by JAMES L. RIDLEY, P. G. M., of Maryland.

The exercises were brought to a close by the singing of the Jubilee hymn, composed for the occasion by Brother EDWARD P. NOWELL, of the American Odd Fellow. The people were dismissed with the benediction, pronounced by Rev. J. W. VENABLE, the Grand Chaplain, and slowly made their way from the building to join in the great out-door demonstration, either as participants or spectators.

THE GRAND PARADE.

The principal feature of the celebration was the grand parade. For this the greatest preparations had been made by the various Lodges. At an early hour this morning the streets in all sections of the city were enlivened by the music of the bands accompanying the Lodges to the places which had been assigned for the formation of the respective divisions. The general formation of the Lodges was in the following order:

Marshal and Assistants.
Outside Guardian.
Scene Supporters.
Members of the Initiatory Degree in order of juniority, six abreast.
Members of the White, Pink, Royal Blue, Green and Scarlet Degrees, respectively, in like order.
Members of the Royal Purple Degree.
Past Grands of the Lodge, in order of juniority, six abreast.
The Treasurer, Secretary and Assistant Secretary.
The Vice-Grand and Supporters.
The Chaplain, supported by the Warden and Conductor.
The Noble Grand and Supporters.
Inside Guardian.

Among the notables who took their place in the procession were the following:

M. W. Grand Sire E. D. Farnsworth, of Nashville, Tenn.; M. W. Deputy Grand Sire Frederick D. Stuart, Washington, D. C.; M. W. Grand Secretary James L. Ridgely, Baltimore, Md.; M. W. Grand Treasurer Hon. Joshua Vansant, Baltimore, Md.; M. W. Grand Chaplain Rev. J. W. Venable, Kentucky; M. Grand Marshal John W. Orr, New-Jersey; M. W. Grand Guardian J. W. Smith, Connecticut, and M. W. Grand Messenger J. C. Chamberlain, Maryland. A large number of the representatives of the Grand Lodge of the United States were also present in their place in the procession as indicated below, their magnificent regalia lending much to the attractiveness of the affair.

Broad-street, of course, was the centre of attraction. Eleven o'clock was the hour fixed upon for the formation of the procession, and long before that time all the streets leading to that thoroughfare were filled with people wending their way toward Philadelphia's greatest avenue. The appearance of the street was very fine. The sidewalks were lined with persons of all ages. Many houses were beautifully decorated, and flags were displayed from nearly every dwelling. The windows were all crowded with spectators. When the different divisions marched into line, the scene as viewed from Girard-avenue was very pretty.

THE ORDER OF PROCESSION.

REVIEW.

The members of the Grand Lodge of the United States, seated in carriages, reviewed the procession as it countermarched on Broad-street, and then took their positions in the line after the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania in the Twentieth Division.

The appearance of the procession as it countermarched on Broad-street was magnificent. The line extended as far as the eye could perceive. The members of the Order all wore their regalias, and the officers wore their jewels or insignia of office. The rich and splendid regalias of the different Grand Lodges attracted much attention. The various lodges all turned out very strong, some of them occupying at least two squares, and the marching was very regular. In addition to the two bands furnished to each division, many of the lodges were provided with bands. Nearly every lodge carried a handsome satin banner, several having been gifts from ladies this morning. The following lodges, among others, displayed new and beautiful banners: Apollo, Monterey, Radiant, Richmond, De Kalb, Mount Olive, Mystic, Liberty, Tacony, Merchants', Robert Morris, Southwark and Philanthropic. A splendid white silk flag, twenty feet long and eleven and a half feet wide, designed for the Grand Lodge of the United States, was also displayed.

ALONG THE LINE.

The streets through which the procession passed were thronged with people—men, women and children—and many of the dwelling-houses were tastefully decorated. The procession was exceedingly large, and it was supposed that it would be monotonous to look at; but such was not the case. The abundance of music, the great variety of dress of the members and officers of the different encampments and lodges, and the profuse display of flags and handsome banners, formed a great attraction, and most of the spectators remained on the sidewalks during the entire passage of the procession.

The Evening Exercises.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, April 26.

Impressive exercises were held in the Academy of Music, this evening, commencing soon after 8 o'clock with the singing by the grand chorus, with a full orchestral accompaniment, of an invocation hymn, the words of which were written by P. G. J. MARTIN MCFARLAND, of Washington, D. C., and the music composed by Professor L. ENGELKE. Prayer was then offered, after which the orchestra performed the overture to VON WEBER'S opera of "Oberon." Then were given an address, followed by the singing of GABUSSI'S duet of "I Pescatori" by Messrs. JACOB GRAF and AARON R. TAYLOR; an address; and then a song written by B. P. SHILLABER, entitled "Our Flag," the music by G. A. VEAZIE. The second part of the programme opened with an orchestral selection from VERDI'S opera of "Il Trovatore," followed by an address; after which Messrs. J. GRAF, J. JACOB and A. R. TAYLOR, with chorus and orchestral accompaniment, sang "Friendship, Love and Truth," to MIGNON'S air, the words being written by Brother R. B. MAYES, of Mississippi. The concluding exercises consisted of another address, and the usual closing ode of the Order, as follows:

"Brothers, we thank you all
For this, your friendly call,
Our hearts to cheer;
May peace her influence shed,
And heaven its wing outspread,
To guard each brother's head
From pain and fear.

Good night: and, as you go,
Bear hence, and fully show,
Stamped on your breasts,
The Seal of Friendship pure,
And Love through life t' endure,
And Truth which still secure
With honor rests."

The festivities were brought to a close by a grand ball of the Odd Fellows at the Race-street Rink, which was thronged with the beauty and élite of the city. The interior of the building presented a sight seldom if ever seen, being completely covered with flags of all descriptions, and tastefully dressed with banners, &c., carried in the procession. The ball closed at a late hour.

The Celebration in This City.

Philadelphia having been designated as the place for celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the institution of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in this country, the principal officers of the New-York City lodges and large delegations of the members went to the City of Brotherly Love to take part in the ceremonies there. Those who remained behind, however, did not allow the occasion to pass here without appropriate demonstrations. There was no procession and no observance of the anniversary by the home guard of the Order during the daytime, but in the evening there was a concert at Steinway Hall, which was largely attended, and balls at the Germania Assembly Rooms, in the Bowery, and at Apollo Hall, corner of Broadway and Twenty-eighth-street. These were brilliant affairs. The Odd Fellows and their families and friends were present in large numbers.

The concert deserves especial mention. The hall was crowded, and the orchestra was led by Mr. JEROME HOPKINS, who also introduced a number of his pupils composing the Orpheon Society. Of these Mrs. SARAH KEVAN and Mr. JOSEPH JEWETT sang solos very acceptably. During the proceedings, Passed Grand Master W. L. G. SMITH presented an address. He said that the first lodge of Odd Fellows in this country was formed in Baltimore, fifty years ago, at the instance of Passed Grand Sire WILDEY, and was in imitation of the English Order of the same name. The lodge was named after WASHINGTON. Representatives of the Order existed in New-York at the time. They met occasionally at their lodges clothed in white, but had not the usual combination of blue, pink and green in their apparel. They lacked the unity of a fixed abode and a recognized government, and existed more as pleasure organizations than for charitable purposes. Since 1830, however, the statistics of the Order had been reliable, showing that since that time, there had been 3,195 lodges in this country, which had initiated 629,106 persons. The number of contributing members was now, the speaker said, 245,036; the individuals relieved, 496,579; of families assisted, 57,506. The number of burials had been 1,685,982; of money paid for relief, $9,710,998; that for the education of orphans, $252,728. The total revenue had been $31,343,830. The speaker alluded to the past opposition to the Order as a secret society on the part of religious bodies, but said they had found nothing in its practices not founded on the precepts of the Bible. He related sundry deeds of good that had been performed by members, and clothed his ideas in many poetical figures. Passed Grand Master, Rev. Dr. CHAPIN, was also announced to speak, but was prevented by illness from attending.

OBSERVANCES ELSEWHERE.

BOSTON, Mass., Monday, April 26.

The procession of Odd Fellows to-day numbered about 6,000 men, composed of Massachusetts lodges, and several encampments and lodges from Rhode Island. Numerous buildings on the route were elaborately decorated. The services in Music Hall consisted of an original hymn, sung by the vast audience to the tune of "America," introductory address by L. F. WARREN, prayer by Rev. ST. JOHN CHAMBRE, oration by Hon. HENRY F. GARCY, of Baltimore, and an original poem by B. P. SHILLABER. The celebration closed with a concert and levée in Music Hall, and a banquet in Bumstead Hall. During the day, Faneuil Hall, Boylston Hall, and Odd Fellows' Hall were kept open for the reception and entertainment of brethren of the Order. The celebration was a grand and interesting affair, and all its details were carried out with entire success.

ALBANY, Monday, April 26.

The fiftieth anniversary of Odd Fellowship was duly observed here. Twenty lodges, including those from Troy, West Troy, Cohoes, Schenectady and Hudson, participated in the parade. This evening, all were present at a concert and lecture.

NYACK, N. Y., Monday, April 26.

The order of Odd Fellows in Rockland County had a grand procession here to-day. In the forenoon the Order appeared in procession. In the afternoon orations were delivered by P. G. EDWARDS, and P. NORWELL, editor of the American. A banquet and ball were had at the St. Nicholas in the evening.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Monday, April 26.

The various Odd Fellow lodges in this district celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of Odd Fellowship in Collingwood Opera House this evening. P. G. MARTIN, of Jersey City, delivered a lecture, after which there were a banquet and a ball. Many lodges were represented from different points along the Hudson.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Monday, April 26.

The Odd Fellows of this city dedicated a new and elegant hall this evening. Past Grand Master WILLIAM GOULD, of Buffalo, delivered an able and interesting address.

PORTLAND, Me., Monday, April 26.

The semi-centennial anniversary of Odd Fellowship was celebrated here by a procession and dinner, concluded with a ball in the evening. The visiting lodges were received at the depots and provided with breakfast. The procession, under charge of General GEO. F. SHEPLEY, Chief Marshal, moved at 11 o'clock to Odd Fellows' Hall, where a flag was raised and an address delivered by Hon. J. H. DRUMMOND. The procession then passed through the various streets to Congress-street Church, where an address was delivered by Judge KINGSBURY. The procession then moved to the Hall, where a dinner was spread for eight hundred.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Monday, April 26.

The fiftieth anniversary of American Odd Fellowship was celebrated in this city to-day by about twenty lodges and encampments gathered from the different parts of New-Hampshire. There was a procession, oration by Rev. A. A. MINER, of Boston, a dinner at the New-Longdon Mill, and a levée in Smyth's Hall.

NEW-HAVEN, Conn., Monday, April 26.

About 2,000 Odd Fellows from all parts of the State joined in procession to-day. The display was imposing. E. M. P. WELLS delivered an oration, and an original ode was sung, followed by a large collation at the State House. In the evening a ball was held at Music Hall.

ST. LOUIS, Monday, April 26.

The celebration of the semi-centennial anniversary of the Order of Odd Fellows here to-day, promises to be a grand affair. The procession consists of nine divisions, embracing forty lodges and encampments, including the subordinate lodges of St. Louis. The Missouri subordinate lodges are visiting the jurisdictions of the Grand Encampment of Missouri and the Grand Lodge of Missouri. The oration is to be delivered by Hon. WILLIAM WALLACE, of Indiana. This evening there will be a grand reunion banquet at the Southern Hotel.

The exercises of the Odd Fellows at the Rink this afternoon were impressive. A very eloquent oration was delivered by Hon. WILLIAM WALLACE, of Indiana, who gave a review of the Order and its influence on individuals and upon society in general.

CHICAGO, Ill., Monday, April 26.

The Odd Fellows of Illinois, to-day, celebrated their semi-centennial anniversary at Peoria. The attendance was quite large, about 2,500 persons being present from abroad. After the procession was concluded, suitable exercises took place at ROUSE'S Hotel, which were followed in the evening by a promenade concert, ball and supper.

The Odd Fellows of Northern Iowa had their semi-centennial anniversary celebration at Dubuque to-day. After the procession, orations were delivered in the Athenæum by Rev. J. D. HANSON and Professor CHARLES KRETYCHEMHR. A grand banquet followed in the evening.

INDIANAPOLIS, Monday, April 26.

The semi-centennial anniversary celebration by the Odd Fellows of this city and State to-day was a grand success in every particular. The procession was the largest and most imposing ever witnessed in this city, numbering about forty subordinate lodges and encampments and the Grand Lodge and Grand Encampment of the State. Hon. ROBERT DALE OWEN delivered the oration. Vice-President COLFAX came here on Saturday to attend the celebration, but was called away by sickness in his family soon after his arrival.

WILMINGTON, Del., Monday, April 26.

The semi-centennial of Odd Fellowship was commemorated in this city by a procession of the Grand Lodge of the State and its subordinate lodges. Business has been suspended, and the streets crowded with people. The public buildings and private residences along the route of the procession were gaily decorated with flags.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Monday, April 26.

The Odd Fellows of this city, with the Loudon Lodge, of Leesburg, Va., celebrated the day by a grand procession, after which they listened to an oration on the rise and progress of the Order, by Grand Chaplain MCCABE. The visitors are being entertained this afternoon, and will return to their homes to-night.

NASHVILLE, Monday, April 26.

The Odd Fellows' semi-centennial celebration took place here to-day. The Brotherhood were out in full strength, and their numbers were augmented by delegations from some forty lodges in Middle Tennessee and Southern Kentucky. The procession was the largest, and the demonstration the most imposing of the order ever witnessed in Nashville. Masonic Temple was crowded at an early hour in the afternoon, and, when the procession entered the hall, scarcely any standing-room was left. The oration was pronounced by Rev. A. Y. BAIRD, and was exceedingly able and eloquent. To-night a grand banquet is in progress at Masonic Temple.

MEMPHIS, Monday, April 26.

The Odd Fellows' celebration to-day was a grand affair. After marching through the principal streets they assembled in the Opera House, where an address was delivered by P. G. A. J. WHEELAN.

COVINGTON, Ky., Monday, April 26.

There is a largely-attended celebration by Odd Fellows to-day at Covington, in which the fraternity of Cincinnati participates.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Monday, April 26.

The day was celebrated by the Odd Fellows, and a grand ball will be given to-night.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE

SENATE....ALBANY, April 26.

RESOLUTION.

By Mr. NICHOLS—In favor of the concurrence of the Legislature with the Canal Board in the reduction of the rate of tolls on the following articles, when transported on canals of this State: On barytes, cabinet ware and furniture, car axles, all iron castings, domestic cottons, domestic woolens, fire-proof cement, furniture for stoves not cast-iron, hides raw and green, foreign and domestic blown and pig iron going toward tide-water, iron bolts, iron safes, scrap iron, bulk mahogany, plaster, calcined or plaster of Paris going from tide-water, rags, varnish and vinegar from the present rates to one and one half mill per 1,000 pounds per mile. On bleaching powders going from tide-water, bones other than manures, coffee, crockery, brimstone, salted fish, going from tide-water; foreign gypsum, pig iron, going from tide-water; spikes, wrought stone, sugar, sal-soda, tin plates and water lime, going from tide-water; and wool, from present rates to one mill per 1,000 pounds per mile. On earth, limestone, sand, slate and stone, unwrought and partly wrought, to half a mill per 1,000 pounds per mile. On window sash and blinds, from present rates to five mills per 1,000 pounds per mile. Adopted. The above requisitions have been already made by the Canal Board, but the concurrence of the Legislature is required by law, and it remains for the Assembly to concur to make the establishment of the new rates complete.

BILLS PASSED.

To incorporate the Sixth-avenue Savings Bank. To amend the charters of Cooperstown and Syracuse. To amend the charter of the Poughkeepsie Water Works. To incorporate the village of Chataugay. To amend the law in relation to life insurance. To incorporate the Literary Society of St. Vincent Ferrer. To authorize a loan to the County of Schoharie. RESOLUTIONS.

By Mr. O'DONNELL—A concurrent resolution that an amendment be prepared to section 6, of article 10 of the State Constitution, making the political year and legislative term begin on the first day of December; that the Legislature shall meet every year, and assemble on the first Tuesday in December; that the foregoing amendment be referred to the next Legislature, and be published for three months prior to election. Tabled under the rule.

BILLS REPORTED.

To incorporate the People's Savings Bank of Buffalo; also the Dime Bank of Suffern. To authorize the removal of the Mutual Savings Bank of Brooklyn.

Recess till evening.

EVENING SESSION.

A communication was received from A. T. STEWART, HORACE GREELEY and WILLIAM ORTON, Commissioners appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Postmaster-General to negotiate for the site of the new Post Office in New-York, asking the passage of an act authorizing the Corporation of the City of New-York to exchange with the United States certain lands in the City Hall Park, and ceding the jurisdiction thereof.

A VETO MESSAGE.

The following message was received from the Governor, vetoing the bill amending the act to supply vacancies in the offices of Justice of the Peace in the several towns of the State, passed April 18, 1869. The bill consists of two sections. The first section provides that when a vacancy shall occur in the office of Justice of the Peace in any town in this State, after the annual town meeting in any year, and before the next annual town meeting in such town, certain town officers, or a majority of them, may appoint a person to fill the vacancy, and any person so appointed shall hold said office until five days after the then next annual town meeting of said town. By a reference to article 6, section 17, of the Constitution, it will be seen that Justices of the Peace are elective officers. The fiftieth section, article 10, of the Constitution, reads thus: "The Legislature shall provide for filling vacancies in office; and in the case of elective officers, no person appointed to fill a vacancy shall hold his office by virtue of such appointment longer than the commencement of the political year next succeeding the first annual election after happening the vacancy. It is obvious that in case a vacancy occurring after the annual town meeting and before the annual election of the same year, this section would provide that the person appointed to fill the vacancy should continue to hold office after the next succeeding first of January, which would be the commencement of the political year next succeeding the first annual election after happening the vacancy; such provision of the law is forbidden by the Constitution.

Section second of the bill provides that when a vacancy shall exist, and a Justice of the Peace shall have been elected in the town whose term of office does not commence until the 1st of January following, the person so elected shall be appointed to fill such vacancy. Article 10, section 2 of the Constitution, prescribes that all city, town and village officers whose election or appointment is not provided for by this Constitution, shall be elected by the electors of such cities, towns and villages, or some division thereof, or appointed by such authorities thereof as the Legislature shall designate for that purpose. It is plain that the person pointed out by this act as the one who shall fill the vacancy in the case described in this second section, could hold office while filling a vacancy neither by the election of electors of the town, or any portion of them, nor by appointment by the local authorities. The power of appointment—that is, the selection of a person who shall fill a vacancy—is, according to the Constitution, to be conferred absolutely, if conferred at all, upon the local authorities. The Legislature cannot designate in advance what person they shall appoint. Both sections of the bill are in conflict with the Constitution.

(Signed,) JOHN T. HOFFMAN.

It was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

ORDERED TO A THIRD READING.

REPORTS.

Requiring ferry companies to have an extra engineer, pilot and hands for emergencies.

Incorporating the Great Neck Dock Company.

The Special Order—The Niagara Ship Canal bill was considered. Mr. NICHOLS spoke at length against the same, and Mr. PARKER and others followed favoring it.

The Ship Canal bill was then progressed.

The special order—the Governor's annual message—was then taken up. Mr. O'DONNELL addressed the Senate at length, reviewing the vetoes and political issues.

Adjourned.

ASSEMBLY.

BILLS ORDERED TO A THIRD READING.

Authorizing the flowing of land. Removing the capital of the State to New-York—44 to 28. Mr. FREAR alone of the New-York members voted "No." The bill to facilitate the conveyance of passengers between the Cities of New-York and Brooklyn. The bill to incorporate the Passengers' Transit Company was progressed.

Mr. KIERNAN moved to lay the report on the table. Lost—27 to 37.

Mr. O'KEEFE moved to recommit, with instructions to strike out all relating to Brooklyn. Carried—37 to 29.

The Canal Appropriation bill was taken up for consideration, but there being no quorum present, no action was taken. Adjourned.

New-York Sunday School Teachers' Association.

This society held its regular meeting yesterday evening at Dr. CROSBY'S church. B. F. JACOBS, Esq., of Chicago, delivered an address on the duties and responsibilities of teachers. Mrs. SMITH, of Oswego, gave an exhibition of a "class exercise," and Rev. EDWARD EGGLESTON, of Chicago, closed the evening with an illustration of what he called "drill exercise." The church was well filled.

Widespread Mazzinian Conspiracy.

FLORENCE, Monday, April 26.

The Mazzinian conspiracy recently discovered at Milan seems to have been wider spread than at first supposed. Arms, ammunition, documents, &c., belonging to the conspirators have been discovered and seized in this city.

SPAIN.

The Conscription Peaceably Effected.

MADRID, Monday, April 26.

The conscription authorized by law has been completed throughout Spain. There was no rioting or disorder except at Avila, a small town about fifty miles from Madrid, where the conscription was postponed for a time on account of the opposition of the people.

Disturbances were caused by the enforcement of the conscription in the City of Seville, but they were of a slight character and were easily suppressed.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Irish Church Disestablishment Bill—The Newmarket First Spring Meeting.

LONDON, Monday, April 26.

The House of Commons to-day, in Committee, resumed the consideration of the bill for the disestablishment of the Irish Church.

Mr. JONATHAN PIM, member for Dublin City, a Liberal, moved to amend the twenty-fifth clause of the bill by striking out those sections in which provision is made for the maintenance of certain church buildings as national monuments.

Mr. GLADSTONE accepted and supported the amendment.

After a discussion of some length the House divided, with the following result:

For Mr. Pim's amendment	232
Against it	131
Majority	101

The Newmarket first Spring meeting commenced to-day. The event of the day was the Prince of Wales stake (handicap) of 15 sovereigns each, with 200 sovereigns added for three-year olds and upward; second horse to receive 50 sovereigns out of the stakes, and the third to save his stake; (fifty-three subscribers.)

The race was won by the Duke of NEWCASTLE'S Silenus. The following is a summary:

The Duke of Newcastle's br. g. Silenus, by Claret, out of Mona, 5 years	1
Count Batthyany's b. f. Typhon, by Vidette, out of Maid of Lincoln, 4 years	2
Mr. Watts' b. f. Mysotis, by Newminster, out of Souvenir, 4 years	3

Fourteen started. The betting before the race was four to one against Silenus, ten to one against Typhon, and ten to one against Mysotis.

The Branch Mint at San Francisco—Indian Depredations and Military Reprisals.

SAN FRANCISCO, Saturday, April 24.

The Chamber of Commerce has memorialized President GRANT, by telegraph, urging him, in view of the industrial and commercial necessities of the Pacific Coast, and the country at large, to withhold the commissions of the new appointees to the Mint until the present stringency in the money market has abated. Senators STEWART and CASSERLY are also requested to submit to the President the protests of bankers and merchants telegraphed by them against any change of the Mint officials.

Three coasting schooners were driven ashore during the recent heavy northwest gale; but no lives are reported as lost.

Recent Arizona advices received here, announce that a scouting expedition of troops had succeeded in destroying several Indian ranches and large quantities of Winter stores. The savages escaped.

The Haverty Case.

NEW-ORLEANS, La., Monday, April 26.

This evening's Picayune, in a leading article, reviews the Haverty case of Corpus Christi. After reviewing the former facts of the case, the Picayune says: "HAVERTY went through here a few weeks ago to Corpus Christi to attend his trial, but REYNOLDS having been restored, a new Judge was appointed and HAVERTY'S bail bond was forfeited, and he returned to jail, such sureties being required that he cannot give them. His counsel were not allowed to speak, and were fined twice for attempting it. When he was tried the first time, the Sheriff, who is the prosecutor, invaded the Jury room, and attempted to drive the Jury into a verdict of guilty. The object of the prosecution is to force money out of the victim. Chicago certainly ought to come to his rescue. Will not Mr. MEDILL, of the Tribune, who saw him in our office when he was on his way to Corpus Christi, endeavor to put an end to this unexampled persecution? HAVERTY was kidnapped from Chicago, taken to Corpus Christi and confined without the privilege of bail, but was afterward released on bail on the intervention of General HANCOCK.

Serious Charges against State Officials in Illinois—Immense Conflagration.

CHICAGO, Ill., Monday, April 26.

General J. C. WEBBER, late Secretary of the new State-house Commissioners of Illinois, has laid before Governor PALMER serious charges against the Board. He says in his financial report that they neglected to account for $3,600 received for old buildings; that they allowed Messrs. BERNARD & GOWAN to alter their bid for cutting and setting stone after all the bids had been opened and examined; that they paid $7,000 for cut stone to said firm, which was not called for by contract, and was never furnished; that they paid said firm $80,000 on a contract obtained by fraud and corruption. He cites the names of some twenty persons to prove his allegation.

A row of two-story frame buildings, Nos. 145 to 155 North Clark-street, was destroyed by fire between 12 and 1 o'clock this morning. The buildings were occupied by PETER SCHNEIDER, millinery; Miss DEBAOER, Dr. BORDENSTEDT, SHEFLER & KNOHMER, drapers; J. KAUFMAN, A. KURSE, dyer; A. MILLER, cigars, and HENRY BYRNE, undertaker. The total loss is estimated at $150,000.

NEW-ORLEANS, April 26.—The steamer Lizzie Hopkins, from Shreveport for New-Orleans, took fire among the cotton stowed in her hold, on the 22d instant. With difficulty she was saved by partially filling her with water. One hundred and fifty bales of cotton were thrown overboard. The boat arrived this evening slightly damaged.

EUROPEAN NEWS BY MAIL.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP CITY OF PARIS.

The Inman steamship City of Paris, which left Liverpool April 14, and Queenstown April 15, reached this port yesterday, with two days' later news than was received by the Donau.

In the British House of Commons, March 13, Mr. ADDERLEY asked the Under Secretary of State for the Colonies, if he would state to the House the general terms on which the Hudson's Bay Company have consented to surrender their government and territory. Mr. MONSELL said, in answer to his right honorable friend, he had to inform him that the Hudson's Bay Company had consented to surrender all their rights of territory and jurisdiction on condition of receiving £300,000 in money, about 50,000 acres about their posts, and one-twentieth of all land that might be laid out for settlement within the next fifty years. The surrender was not to come into operation until the Government and Parliament of the Dominion had accepted these terms, nor unless that assent should be signified within six months from April 9.

A splendid steamer, named the Paracuse, had been launched from the ship-building yard of Messrs. THOS. RAYDON & CO., Liverpool. The Paracuse is intended to trade between Liverpool and the northern parts of Brazil, and the owners of the ships in Liverpool are Messrs. SINGLEHURST & CO. The inauguration of this new line of trade between the Mersey and the northern Brazilian ports will greatly affect the sailing-ship trade.

"A terrible drama," says the Paris Figaro, "has just taken place in the house bearing the number 177, Rue St. Jacques, and in which Mme. SOULETTE for many years had kept a school for young girls. The report of a pistol shot attracted the attention of the occupants of the building, and some of them entered the apartment in which she and her family lived. They found her extended dead on her bed, having been strangled by her husband, who was lying near on the floor in a pool of blood, having blown out his own brains. The husband and wife were known to live on bad terms."

The Moniteur de la Flotte, the organ of the Ministry of Marine, publishes the following note: "Several journals pretend that great activity prevails in the French ports, and that several men-of-war have been put into a complete state of attack and defence. We are enabled to affirm that this news has no sort of foundation. The works at the ports are following their ordinary course within the limit of their budgetary resources, and no order for any extraordinary armament has been given. At Cherbourg and Toulon several armor-plated frigates are undergoing certain internal modifications necessitated by the change in their artillery. At Brest and Lorient, two iron-coated corvettes recently completed are proceeding to their regulation-trials. It may therefore be seen that nothing in the situation of our ports indicates that any preparations for war are being made, as the paragraph published by certain journals would lead the world to suppose."

The Moniteur de l'Armée publishes a list of the troops and officers who are to take part in the manœuvres at the Camp de Châlons from May 1 to June 30. Marshal BAZAINE is to act as Commander-in-Chief, and General of Brigade BESSON as Head of Staff.

Accounts from the wine-growing districts in the South of France give details of a new malady in the vines attributed to a vermin which is found on the leaves of the diseased plants. In the district of Orange, (Vaucluse,) of 10,000 hectares (2½ acres each) of vines, 3,500 are destroyed. The malady, fortunately, had not spread so rapidly in the rest of the neighborhood, but the loss was immense; at Sarrians few plants remained in healthy state; at Roquemaure the loss amounted to one-half. The disease was increasing daily and gradually advancing. As yet it appeared to follow the course of the Rhone, rather than extend in breadth. It was commencing in the environs of Arles in the Bouches-du-Rhone, reached as far as Pierrelatte in the Drome, and would soon include Montélimart, a distance of ninety miles. The whole of that country was far from being attacked, but there were a number of centres of infection which spread the contagion around.

A dispatch from Rome, dated April 13, sets forth that the Pope received on the previous day more than fifty telegrams of congratulation from the principal dioceses, convents or Catholic committees abroad. The Nuncio of Madrid had forwarded the compliments of the chiefs of the Spanish Government. His Holiness had thanked the Diplomatic Body which, through the Marquis DE BANNEVILLE, its elder, had asked to be present at the mass on the 11th. The director of the Pontifical telegraphs had left for Florence to come to an arrangement with his Italian colleague, and to settle the accounts of the two Administrations. The Giornale di Roma states that the Holy Father had received friendly messages from all the Sovereigns, from the Queen of England, the Emperor of Russia, the King, Queen, and Prince Royal of Spain, the Empress of Mexico, the King of Wurtemberg, the Grand Dukes of Tuscany and Mecklenberg-Strelitz.

In the Spanish Cortes, April 12, Marshal SERRANO, in reply to a question from M. GARCIA LOPEZ, admitted that the Government had received a dispatch announcing that the situation was becoming worse in Cuba.

FRANCE.

Birthday of Napoleon the Great—Increased Pensions for Veterans.

The Emperor NAPOLEON has addressed the following letter to the Minister of State:

PALACE OF THE TUILERIES,
April 12, 1869.

MONSIEUR LE MINISTRE: On the 15th August next, a hundred years will have elapsed since the Emperor NAPOLEON was born. During that long period many ruins have been accumulated, but the grand figure of NAPOLEON has remained upstanding. It is that which still guides and protects us—it is that which, out of nothing, has made me what I am.

To celebrate the centenary date of the birth of the man who called France the great nation because he had developed in her those manly virtues which found empires, is for me a sacred duty, in which the entire country will desire to join. In my opinion, the best way to honor that national jubilee is to spread a little comfort among the Emperor's old companions in arms.

The 2,700,000f. which the Legion of Honor distributes to them every year, are insufficient to assure their existence.

I have thought that the Caisse des Dépôt et des Consignations might be made to distribute larger pensions to those old soldiers, by abandoning to it the credit granted by the Chamber during a number of years, necessary for the recovery of its advances. By that means aid will be efficaciously afforded to glorious misfortunes, without in any way modifying the provisions of the Budget.

My desire is that from the 15th of August next every soldier of the Republic and of the First Empire should receive an annual pension of 250 francs.

The Legislative Body, I have no doubt, will receive this proposal with the national feeling by which it is so eminently animated. It will think, as I do, that in a period when complaints are made of the progress of scepticism, to reward examples of patriotic devotedness and to recall them to the memory of the younger generations, cannot but be of great utility.

To awaken grand historical recollections is to encourage faith in the future; and to do honor to the memory of great men is to recognize one of the most striking manifestations of the Divine Will.

I beg you to come to an understanding with the Ministers of Finance and of my household for the preparation of a bill and for its presentation without delay to the Legislative body, after having taken the opinion of the Council of State.

Whereupon, Monsieur le Ministre, I pray God to have you in His holy keeping.

NAPOLEON.

COMMON COUNCIL.

Board of Aldermen.

The Board met at 2 o'clock yesterday, President COMAN in the chair.

A resolution was adopted giving to the Mayor's Marshal the rooms formerly occupied by the Clerk of the Board of Assistant Aldermen, so soon as the latter shall take the new rooms assigned to him, (the rooms formerly occupied by the County Clerk.)

A message was received from the Mayor vetoing a resolution designating the Irish Tribune as a Corporation newspaper, as there is no appropriation to meet the expenditures incurred for advertising in said paper. Ordered to be laid upon the table for ten days.

The following ordinance was presented:

Be it ordained, by the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New-York, in Common Council convened:

SECTION 1. For the purpose of public salt-water baths, a slip or basin, 200 feet in front, shall be retained at the easterly end of the Battery, in the City of New-York, adjoining the lands under water upon the westerly side thereof, heretofore conveyed by the State of New-York to the United States Government.

SEC. 2. The Comptroller of the City of New-York is hereby authorized and directed to lease to Isaac Hall, the proprietor of the salt-water floating baths at the Battery, the said slip or basin, for the purposes of public baths only, for the period of ten years, at such yearly rent, and upon such terms and regulations, as may be reasonable and proper, not to exceed $500 per year.

SEC. 3. The contract for the filling in, completion and extension of said Battery is hereby modified so as to reserve the said slip or basin, (as provided in the first section of this ordinance,) and the contractor holding such contract is hereby authorized and directed to erect a walk along the westerly side of said slip or basin, instead of the walk which would have been erected in front of the space to be occupied by said slip or basin, if the latter had not been reserved as hereinbefore stated; also to erect a walk along the bulkhead of said slip or basin, provided that the said contractor shall consent, in writing, to such modification of said contract, and not otherwise.

The Board then adjourned.

Board of Assistant Aldermen.

The Board met at 2 o'clock P. M. yesterday, pursuant to adjournment, President MONAGHAN in the chair.

A resolution adopted at the last meeting of the Board, increasing the pay of the Inspectors of Sewers from $4 to $5 per day, was reconsidered and laid over.

A communication from the Corporation Counsel to the effect that the report of the Commissioners of Estimates and Assessment in the matter of opening Madison-avenue, from Eighty-sixth-street to One Hundred and Twentieth-street, was confirmed by the Supreme Court, was received, and a resolution that said opening take place on the 1st of May next was adopted.

Resolutions to pave Stone-street, from Whitehall to Broad-street; Forty-sixth-street, between Lexington and Third avenues, and Sixty-sixth street, from Third to Fith-avenue, with Belgian pavement were adopted.

Resolutions donating to the Sisters of Charity, of St. Mary's Church, $70, and to St. Ann's Church, in Eighth-street, $208; and to the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum an amount sufficient to pay assessments were adopted, and the Board then adjourned.

Board of Health.

The Commissioners met yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, G. B. LINCOLN, Esq., in the chair. A report of the Sanitary Committee was received against permitting cattle being driven below Fortieth-street. The report was indorsed by the Board. The Sanitary Superintendent sent in a complaint that the ordinance of the Board relative to the sale of dangerous kerosene was violated by retail dealers, and asked that such persons should be punished.

The report contained a communication from Professor CHANDLER stating that "liquid gas is highly dangerous, and that the idea of benzine and naphtha being safe is entirely erroneous." The matter was referred to the counsel of the Board on motion of Dr. Smith, with instructions to commence suits against offending dealers. The following have been complained of: No. 97 West Houston-street, No. 2 Pike-street, No. 40 East Broadway, No. 144 Ann-street, No. 174 Essex-street, No. 516 Grand-street, No. 70 Bayard-street, No. 39 Elm-street, No. 13 Roosevelt-street, No. 64 East Houston-street, No. 55 Rose street, No. 134 Norfolk-street.

Of the sale of highly-dangerous benzine reports were made against Nos. 25 Canal-street, 98 Fourth-street, Williamsburg, and 30 Ludlow-street; and of dangerous kerosene against Nos. 12 Greenwich-street, and 79 Third-avenue.

A communication was also received from the Sanitary Superintendent in reference to fatal cases of glanders in human beings. The report shows that 900 horses died by this disease, or in consequence of it were killed, during the year 1868. During the same period over 60,000 horses were, on the average, kept in the City. There are three well-authenticated cases of death from this cause already recorded. Dr. MORRIS' report, which accompanied the above, stated that the practice of permitting animals suffering from the glanders to be led through any public street was detrimental to the public health, and in the report he asks that any horse suffering from that disease, if found by any officer of the Board, be shot, after the disease has been declared by an authorized veterinary surgeon.

A resolution was then offered to the Board by Dr. SMITH, giving the chemist to the Board a salary of $2,000 from November, 1868, such salary to be in lieu of all bills now due him. Referred to Financial Committee.

A resolution was tendered by Mr. EATON to permit cattle and sheep arriving in the Twenty-second or Thirtieth Precincts, on permission of the Police Captains, to be driven through the streets named in the ordinances for driving cattle. Several cattle dealers present signified their approval, and the resolution was adopted.

The Board then adjourned.

CLAIM FOR SALVAGE BY A COMPANY.

The New-York Submarine Co. vs. The J. F. Farlan.—The libelants are a corporation engaged in the business of saving or assisting vessels wrecked or in distress. The libel in this case was for $3,000 as salvage compensation for services rendered by the Rescue, a steamer in the libelants' employ, in getting the schooner J. F. Farlan off the Romer Shoal, in the Lower Bay of this port. The answer set up that the amount claimed is unreasonable, as the schooner was in no danger, and the service rendered did not occupy over twenty minutes.

The libelants, it appears, were not employed to send a vessel to take off the schooner; but, learning through a telegraphic dispatch from their agent at Sandy Hook that the schooner was ashore, they sent down the Rescue to see if assistance was needed. The Rescue reached the schooner between 11 A. M. and noon, and the schooner was pulled off the shoal by 12:45 P. M., the whole service occupying less than two hours of time. The schooner and her cargo were worth $23,000. Her master offered before suit was brought to pay $400 for the service, which was refused.

Held by the Court—That under the decision of the Circuit Court of this District, in the case of the Coast Wrecking Company vs. The Steamship Morning Star, it must be held that the rules applicable to claims for services rendered to vessels by incorporated companies, such as the libelants are, is to award a reasonable and liberal compensation for the use, in the particular service, of the apparatus employed, and for the skill with which it is handled; but that nothing can be awarded as a salvage compensation on the principles which govern the Admiralty in awarding compensation for admitted salvage services.

That the grounds on which the libelants' witnesses seek to sustain the claim of $3,000 for these services, viz., that the libelants keep a large force of vessels and men for such service, which are often obliged to lie idle for long periods, are inadmissible as a basis of computing the proper amount of compensation here.

That though witnesses familiar with such services have given evidence that $300 would be a reasonable compensation for the services, yet, under the circumstances, the libelants may have a decree for $400, but without costs.

For libelants, J. E. Parsons; for claimants, E. H. Owen.

THE NEW DISTRICT-ATTORNEY—THE FULLERTON CASE.

The Circuit and District Courts having been opened yesterday morning before Judge BLATCHFORD, Judge Nelson being still too ill to attend, Mr. Courtney addressed the Court as follows:

May it please the Court: The President of the United States having appointed Hon. Edward Pierrepont District-Attorney of the United States for this district, and the appointment having been confirmed by the Senate, I have to state to the Court that Mr. Pierrepont is now present ready to take the oath of office, and that I am ready to hand over to him all the archives of the office.

Judge PIERREPONT then stepped forward, and the oath of office and the oath of allegiance were administered to him by Judge BLATCHFORD. Returning then to his place he said: May it please the Court: My first duty as District-Attorney is to call up the case of the United States vs. William Fullerton and others, and to ask that the case be set down for trial on the first day that the Court shall see fit to give to it.

The Judge inquired if the defendants' counsel were in Court, and being informed that they were, and would agree to any day in June that the Court would fix, he said: Mr. Justice Nelson, after consultation with Judge Benedict and myself, and the District-Attorney, and, I believe, with the counsel for the defendants, has consented to sit in the trial of this cause. In consequence of his illness he is unable to sit any further at this time, and all matters before him will have to be suspended till June. I am instructed by him to say that he assigns this case for trial on the second Monday in June. Whether he will be here before that time to hear the admiralty appeals, &c., is uncertain. As soon as he is able to set a day for the hearing of the motion before him, which is suspended, it will be announced.

Judge Pierrepont then said that he wished to announce that at the ensuing term he should move for trial first the cases in which the parties are now in prison, and that the United States would be ready in all of them, and that the defendants would be expected to be ready.

Judge Blatchford said that Judge Benedict would sit in the Circuit Court for criminal and revenue cases, commencing on the 3d of May.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—EASTERN DISTRICT.

COLLISION — DAMAGES — DEMURRAGE — ICE — PRIVATE SALE OF CARGO.

James W. Caldwell vs. The Steamboat Thomas Kelly.—This case came up on exceptions to the report of a Commissioner, to whom it had been referred to ascertain the damages sustained by the libelant by the sinking of a canal boat in a collision with the steamboat in the port of New-York, on Jan. 17, 1867. The boat was raised on Jan. 22, and taken to the Atlantic Docks, where the coal with which she was loaded was taken out, and the boat was then taken to Elizaport, N. J., to be repaired. Almost immediately on her arrival she was frozen in, so that she could not be put on the ways for repairs until March 8. The Commissioner allowed demurrage for the whole period, to which exception was taken. He also allowed $1 50 a ton for depreciation of the coal, (which, as it appeared, was sold at private sale,) by reason of its being wet and muddy, and exception was also taken to this item.

Held by the Court—That the libelant is not entitled to recover demurrage for the period that the boat was frozen in. No reason is shown for taking her from New-York, where the collision occurred, and where she would not have been exposed to that delay, and the libelant must bear the loss which has resulted from his error in judgment.

That the demurrage, therefore, must be reduced to a period sufficient to complete the repairs under ordinary circumstances. The expense of taking the boat to Elizabethport must be disallowed.

That the damage to the coal should have been ascertained by an appraisement, or a sale at auction on notice to the respondent. But as it appears that the coal was injured, and that a sale at auction would probably have shown as much loss as has been allowed, the exception to the item must be disallowed and the item suffered to stand.

That, to mark the disapproval by the Court of the course pursued, the fees of the witnesses called to prove the loss on the coal are ordered to be borne by the libelant.

BANKRUPTCY—EXPENSES OF ADJUDICATION.

In the matter of Julius Schwab, an involuntary bankrupt.—In this case a petition was filed by creditors, and a warrant was issued to the Marshal, and prior to the adjudication the petitioners procured injunctions staying proceedings in six actions brought against the bankrupt in the State Courts. The proceedings resulted in an adjudication of bankruptcy, and the securing of some thousands of dollars' worth of property to be distributed in bankruptcy. The petitioning creditors now asked to be paid out of the assets their reasonable expenses of the proceedings.

Held by the Court—That their application was a just one, the fund being the fruit of their diligence, and the expenses incurred being for the benefit of all.

That the power to make them the allowance may be found in the first section of the Bankruptcy act, inasmuch as a due distribution of the assets equally among all the creditors cannot be made without the payment of these expenses out of the fund. (In re Waite, 2 Bank. Reg., 146; In re Williams, id. 28.)

Before Judge Cardozo.

THE BOARD OF METROPOLITAN POLICE AND CAPTAIN YOUNG—APPLICATION OF THE LATTER FOR A MANDAMUS.

In the matter of the application of John S. Young for a writ of mandamus to be issued to the Board of Metropolitan Police, &c.—As reported in the TIMES a few days ago, Captain Young, of the Detective force, has applied to the Supreme Court for a writ of mandamus to compel the Board to accept his resignation and retire him from service by his own act. The papers used on the motion were read on Wednesday last, and the argument of counsel took place to-day.

Mr. John Graham, in behalf of Captain Young, said that this proceeding presents an extraordinary attempt on the part of the so-called Metropolitan Police Board, to grasp power. Their action exhibits the spectacle of compelling an individual to continue in the Police force against his will and after his resignation had become absolute, for the mere purpose of pronouncing against him the foregone sentence of expulsion or dismissal. The real question offered to the Court for its decision is, whether an American citizen, when he has not otherwise agreed with the appointing power, and the Legislature have not otherwise said, can himself determine the period during which he is willing to discharge the duties of an official position, or whether it is an inherent element of republican institutions to deny this privilege to the incumbent of public office. It is not improper to suggest to the Court the avowed object of the present trouble. The Police Commissioners claim that John S. Young, the former Captain of the Detective Squad, was instrumental in recovering, in his official character, some $100,000 out of about $123,000 securities stolen from the Bank of New-Windsor, Maryland, about Jan. 23, 1860; that for this service he received $16,000, or its equivalent; that he did not report it to the Board through the Superintendent, as required by the rules of the Department; that the fact reached the knowledge of the Board through another channel; that on March 9, 1869, they passed a resolution requiring him, in effect, to report to them the details of his conduct in this particular; that he took no notice of their resolution, but sent in a resignation which they refused to accept, and that they then brought him to trial on charges, and dismissed him from the force. The moving papers show that Capt. Young left the sphere of official duty on March 15, meaning and intending, as he afterwards continued to do, to absent himself permanently from it. In order that his conduct in thus absenting himself might not be misconstrued, he handed his resignation to the Chief Clerk of the Department on the 17th of March. The so-called Board of Police notwithstanding appointed his trial for March 22, of which proceeding he took no notice, except to protest in writing before it commenced against its entire want of jurisdiction. The result was that, believing the whole thing to be extra-judicial and without legal warrant, he made no defence, and the Board took his default, got together what they could against him, and pronounced the sentence which he now seeks to have vacated. He was thus continued in office seven full days, involuntarily, simply to be degraded. On looking at the resolution of March 9, it will be found not a resolution of inquiry, but one of decision; not a request to be informed about something upon which they may have to pass, but a demand that Captain Young accuse himself of a crime which they have already determined that he has committed. The resolution assumes that he has received rewards for Police services other than his salary. The Board seem to have overlooked the provision in our State Constitution that "no person shall be compelled, in any criminal case to be a witness against himself." They appear, also, to have overlooked another legal principle, "that the channels by which revelations are made to officers of Police are not to be disclosed, unless in very extreme cases."

Counsel continued at considerable length to discuss, among others, the following points: That the practice of applying for such a writ upon an order to show cause is regular and well-established; that it has been held that a mandamus will lie to the Register of this county to compel him to satisfy, of record, a mortgage upon real estate. The cases are analogous. Again, the Police Board had no right to try Captain Young after it was in receipt of his resignation, which was on March 17. The 17th section of the Act of 1864 expressly permits him to resign without permission of the Board, simply annexing to the act the forfeiture of the salary then due. A point was also made that Mr. Acton, President of the Board, was not in this State from Feb. 27, 1869, to March 28 following; hence that all proceedings against Young were taken under the auspices of the other three Commissioners; that the eighteenth section of the act of 1864 expressly prescribes that the President shall preside at the meetings of the Board; hence it makes him one of the quorum contemplated by section 8.

Mr. Vanderpoel, in behalf of the Board, argued that so long as Mr. Young was a member of the force, he was bound to obey the rules and regulations which had been prescribed by law. One of the rules was, that each member of the force was bound to report all sums of money received by him other than salary. Young knew this when he took the oath of office. It was not denied that he received $16,000 for services in the matter of the Maryland Bank robbery. He did not account for it when asked; on the contrary, he refused it to hand it over for the benefit of the charity entitled to it, or rather for the benefit of the fund as provided by law. But the relator, in this instance, had mistaken his remedy. A mandamus would not be proper in this case. A large number of authorities were cited to show that in no event could the Court grant the writ. Besides, the application came too late. The records of the Board could not be changed by any such order as that asked for by Captain Young. When the prerogative writ of mandamus is issued by the Court, it should always be in aid of, or in execution of, the law, but never to undo something which had already been done. There was no force in the argument that the trial came too late, that is, after the expiration of five days, during which Young did not report himself. The relator did not pretend that he resigned until the afternoon of the 17th. The resignation was first brought to the knowledge of the Board on the morning of the 18th, and five days would take it to the 23d of March.

At the conclusion of the argument the Court took the papers. Decision reserved.

For the relator, Mr. John Graham; for the Police Board, Mr. A. J. Vanderpoel.

A WIFE IN PURSUIT OF EQUITY.

Ann Huntington vs. The Metropolitan Savings Bank and Isaac J. Huntington.—The defendant Huntington, it appears, gave to plaintiff, his wife, the sum of $500 to deposit in the Metropolitan Savings Bank. Subsequently husband and wife quarreled and separated, and he, obtaining the bank book, drew the money. She now brings suit, alleging that the money in dispute was the result of their joint earnings, and that, therefore, she was entitled to half the amount. The bank was nominally made a party to the suit, and set up that the deposit was a joint and several one, and the money properly payable to either party, and the husband claimed that the money was his. The Court held that in any event it could give no judgment against the bank, and the action against the husband was properly one in law, as for moneys had and received, and should be placed on the proper calendar.

Mr. Bryan for plaintiff; Charles S. Spencer for the defendant Huntington.

CIVIL ARREST.

Smith and others vs. Edward Garrison.—This was a motion on behalf of defendant to vacate an order of arrest, issued on the following facts: Defendant had made numerous purchases of goods from the plaintiff, and at the time of commencement of this action was in their debt about $700. Just before making the last purchase, amounting to $170, the defendant was asked to give plaintiffs his brother's indorsement, which he refused, at the same time saying he was as good as his brother, who was known to be perfectly solvent. Two weeks after the purchase of this bill, the defendant filed a petition in bankruptcy, and on these facts plaintiffs charged fraud and misrepresentation, in obtaining the last credit of $170, and order of arrest was obtained thereon. Judgment was entered in the Marine Court for the whole indebtedness, including the last-named sum. Motion is now made to vacate the order of arrest on the ground that the facts were insufficient to authorize its issue, and also that such an order cannot be based on two distinct grounds of action, or, in other words, the defendant was liable to be held in arrest for the payment of the whole judgment of $700, whereas misrepresentations were charged against him only in respect to $170 of the amount.

On this latter ground the Court granted the motion and vacated the order.

MONDAY, April 26, P. M.

The sales of Gold to-day were much the same as on Saturday, 133⅜@½@⅝ ⅌ cent. The Cash Gold was easy. The foreign Exchanges firmer, 108⅝@¾ for 60 days on London, and 109¼@109½ ⅌ cent. short sight, which contribute to the steadiness of Gold, although $1,213,000 was paid out of the Treasury Office to-day for May coupons, and a large amount of Gold Checks issued for the Registered May Interest, the books for which were received from the Department at Washington at the close of last week. The Customs demand for Gold to-day amounted to $396,000.

The Money Market was easy to the Brokers to-day at 7 ⅌ cent., and exceptional transactions were again made at 6 ⅌ cent. on Government Collateral. The sales on prime Merchant paper range 7@9 ⅌ cent.

The Stock Exchange was firm and advancing in prices and active in business on the Public Funds, all descriptions of the 5-20s sharing in the rise and demand and the 5-20s of 1865 and 1867, July and January Interest, especially stiff at the improvement over the highest transactions of Saturday. The Exchange was also active in the Southern State Bonds, the Louisianas advancing 1½ ⅌ cent., the Missouris 1 ⅌ cent. and the new North Carolinas 1½ ⅌ cent. Tennessees and old Virginias were also in request. The Railway market was excited on the Vanderbilt New-York Stocks, Central rising to 172¾, Hudson to 153½, Harlem to 143½@144 ⅌ cent. and very little of the last-named Stock offered. There was some depression early in the day on part of the Western list, the St. Pauls displaying especial weakness, and the Northwests dullness, but Fort Wayne, on the other hand, was buoyant, Rock Island firm and Michigan Southern steady; and later in the day the recovery was general in the weak Stocks of the forenoon, and the whole market, in sympathy with New-York Central, the favorite of the day, left off steady.

After the late Boards broke up, the following quotations were made, as compared with Saturday afternoon:

HAY—Bale Hay is in better supply and less demand, at from 55c.@65c. for shipping, and 90c.@$1 20 for Poor to Choice, for local use, ⅌ 100 ℔s. Straw continues quiet at 75c.@$1 10 for long and short ⅌ 100 ℔s.

HOPS—Continue in moderate demand at former rates, including American at 5c.@12c. for New, and 2c.@5c. for Old, ⅌ ℔. We quote in detail thus: New-York State, 5c.@12c.; Eastern, 5c.@10c.; Wisconsin, 5c.@10c.; Michigan, 5c.@10c.; Yearlings, all grades, 2c.@5c. ⅌ ℔.

MOLASSES—There has not been any notable change in values, though business has been less active. Sales, 50 hhds. Porto Rico at 53c., and an invoice of about 500 hhds. Clayed Cuba, to go to Philadelphia on private terms. We quote: Old and new crop Porto Rico at 40c.@73c.; Cuba at 35c.@60c.; New-Orleans at 70c.@82c. ⅌ gallon.

NAVAL STORES—Spirits Turpentine has been offered more freely at a fractional decline in prices, yet has been in only moderate request. Sales have been reported of 325 bbls., at 48c.@48½c., chiefly at 48½c., for merchantable, ⅌ gallon. Further purchases, it was said, could be effected at the inside figures, the market having been quoted weak. The receipts were liberal. 657 bbls. all told. Crude Turpentine ruled dull and nominal. No receipts were reported. Tar was in moderate request, and sales of 300 bbls. (small and large,) Newbern, were reported at $2 50@$3 25 ⅌ bbl. There were 254 bbls. received. Resin was in fair demand and held with much firmness. Sales were reported of 3,000 bbls. Strained at $2 50@$2 57½, chiefly at $2 57½, to arrive; 150 bbls. No. 2, part at $2 87½, and 300 bbls. No. 1 at $4 25@$4 75 ⅌ 280 ℔s. The receipts of Resin amounted to 859 bbls. The export clearances include 1,112 bbls. by the steamship America for Bremen, and 546 bbls. by ship Republik, same port. We quote Spirits Turpentine at 47½c.@50c., chiefly at 48c.@48½c. for merchantable, and 49c.@49½c. for shipping lots ⅌ gallon; Crude at $4 25; Resin at $2 45@$12 ⅌ 280 ℔s., the latter rate for Choice White; Tar at $2 50@$3 50; Pitch at $2 75@$3 ⅌ bbl.

OILS—Continue quiet at rather weak prices, including Crude Whale at $1 05@$1 10; Bleached Whale at $1 16@$1 20; Crude Sperm at $1 90@$1 95; Unbleached Sperm at $2@$2 03; Lard Oil at $1 45@$1 55; Red Oil at 92½c.@97½c.; Linseed Oil at 90c.@$1 02; Olive at $1 50 ⅌ gallon.

PETROLEUM—There has been very little call for Crude in bulk on the basis of 17¼c.@17¾c., though some holders named 18c. as the asking price, ⅌ gallon. No receipts were reported here; at Philadelphia 1,600 bbls. arrived. Barreled Crude has been in moderately active request, and sales of 2,500 bbls. have been reported at about 23c. ⅌ gallon, but further offerings were likewise reported at this price, without finding buyers, some purchasers naming 22½c.@22¾c. ⅌ gallon as the most they could pay. Refined was in good demand for immediate April delivery, and quoted comparatively firm on the basis of 33c. as the prevalent figure, though some buyers said they could purchase at 32¾c. for Standard White, but would not bid over 32½c. The April contracts yet to be protected help to keep the market steady for oil deliverable within the balance of this month. A sale of 1,000 bbls. Standard White, seller first half of May, was reported at 33c. ⅌ gallon, but there were further offerings on these terms noted, while there were bids of 33c., buyer's option, same time, ⅌ gallon. At Philadelphia sales were represented as having been made of 4,500 bbls. Standard White, April delivery, at 32½c., with 32c. bid and 32¾c. asked at the close; 1,500 bbls. do., May delivery, at 33c.@33¼c.; and 2,500 bbls. do., June delivery, at 34c. ⅌ gallon. The receipts of Refined here were 2,894 bbls.; and at Philadelphia 1,750 bbls. The export clearances were 1,486 bbls. by the bark Silvan, for Cronstadt. There were a number of Petroleum charters reported, which we include in our freight item.

PROVISIONS—Pork has been in moderate demand at rather firmer prices. Sales have been reported since our last of 1,650 bbls., in lots, at $31 25@$31 50, closing at $31 35, regular, for New Mess; $30@$31 12½ for Old Mess; $28 25@$28 75 for Western Prime Mess; $30 50 for Clear; $30 75 for Thin Mess; and $25 75@$26 25 for Prime and Extra Prime, ⅌ bbl. Cut Meats are in light request at former prices; sales equal to 175 packages, at 15¼c.@16¼c. for Dry Salted and Pickled Hams, and 12¾c.@13¼c. for Shoulders, ⅌ ℔. Bacon continues quiet at previous prices; sales of 225 boxes, including Cumberland at 16½c.; Long Clear at 17¾c., and Long Cut Hams at 17¾c. ⅌ ℔. Lard continues quiet and heavy; sales have been reported since our last of 540 tierces and bbls. at 17½c.@19½c. for Poor to very Choice, chiefly at 18c.@18½c. for City, and 18¼c. for Prime Western Steam, ⅌ ℔. Sales were also made of 500 tierces Prime Steam, seller May and June, at 18⅝c. ⅌ ℔. Beef is in less request at $11@$16 for Plain Mess; $12@$18 for Extra Mess, and $8@$11 for inferior grades of barreled Mess Beef; sales reported, 120 bbls. Tierce Beef rules dull, including New Prime Mess at $23@$28; Indian Mess at $26@$33 ⅌ tierce; sales 100 tierces. Beef Hams continue in moderate request at $26@$32 ⅌ bbl.; sales 180 bbls. Butter and Cheese have been quiet but steady.

RICE—Sales have been reported of 100 tcs. Carolina at $9 ⅌ 100 ℔s. Market about steady.

SUGARS—There has been less activity in the market to-day, though the tendency of prices has been in favor of buyers. There has been very little call from refiners. The trade demand has been limited. Sales have been reported of about 470 hhds. Cuba, &c., at from 11½c.@12¼c., chiefly at 11½c.@12c. for refining and grocery grades; also 117 boxes Havana, part at 12¼c. ⅌ ℔. Fair to good refining grades Cuba have been quoted very slow of sale and weak at 11½c.@11¾c.; fair to good grocery grades at from 12c.@12½c.; very good to strictly prime do. at 12¾c.@12⅞c. ⅌ ℔. Porto Rico grocery grades ranged from 12c.@13½c. ⅌ ℔. No. 12 Box Sugar, 12¼c.@12¾c. ⅌ ℔. We quote Box Sugar in detail thus: Boxes Dutch Standard, Nos. 7 to 9, at 11¼@11¾c.; Boxes Dutch Standard, Nos. 10 to 12, at 12¼c.@12¾c.; Boxes Dutch Standard, Nos. 13 to 15, at 12¾c.@13¼c.; Boxes Dutch Standard, Nos. 16 to 18, at 14c.@14¼c.; Boxes Dutch Standard, Nos. 19 to 20, at 15¼c.@15½c.; Boxes Dutch Standard, White, at 14¾c.@15¼c. ⅌ ℔. And Bagged Sugar thus: Brazil, Dutch Standard, Nos. 8 to 12, at 11c.@12¼c.; Java, Dutch Standard, Nos. 10 to 12, at 12c.@12¾c.; Manila, Current Clayed and Superior, at 11¼c.@11¾c. ⅌ ℔. Refined Sugars have been in less demand and heavy in price at 14c.@16c. ⅌ ℔.

TALLOW—Sales have been reported of 115,000 ℔s. Tallow at 11½c.@11¾c.; also, 47,500 ℔s. Stearine at 17c.@18½c., and 38,000 ℔s. Grease at 11c.@15c. ⅌ ℔. The export clearances include 169 hhds. Tallow by the City of Antwerp for Liverpool; 33,736 ℔s. do. by the ship Republik for Bremen.

WHISKY—Has been very dull at about 92c. ⅌ gallon.

FREIGHTS—The market has been rather easier for shippers. For Liverpool, there were taken 1,150 bales Cotton at ⅜d. by sail, and 5-32d.@3-16d. by steamer, ⅌ ℔.; some Sea Island do., by steamer, at ¼d. ⅌ ℔.; 7,500 bushels Corn, by steamer, at 2½d. ⅌ bushel, to fill; 50 boxes Bacon at 12s. 6d. ⅌ ton. For London, a boat-load of Wheat, on steamer's account, on private terms. For Dantzic, a Swedish bark, with 3,250 bbls. Refined Petroleum, from Philadelphia, at 4s. ⅌ bbl. Another, with 300 bbls. do., from Philadelphia for Stettin, at 4s. ⅌ bbl.; and a North German bark, with a cargo of do., from Philadelphia for a Continental port direct, at the same rate.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

OF THE

ST. LOUIS AND ST. JOSEPH RAILROAD

OF MISSOURI.

Principal and interest payable in Gold. Coupons payable May 1 and Nov. 1 at the FARMERS' LOAN AND TRUST COMPANY, NEW-YORK.

Total issue of Bonds $1,000,000, less than $14,000 per mile on 72¼ miles of road from the City of St. Joseph to Lexington, which is not more than half the amount per mile of mortgages on the principal railways of the country, making the bonds the cheapest, and one of the safest investments in the market.

The Council Bluffs and St. Joseph and North Missouri Roads, now completed, are connected by this road, forming a grand trunk through line from St. Louis to Omaha, 39¼ miles nearer New-York than via Chicago.

The loan is being rapidly taken, half of which has already been sold.

Present price 87½ and accrued interest in currency, which must soon approximate par.

The interest is the same as the United States 5-20s, and payable the same time of the 62s, 64s and 65s; at present prices they are 25 to 30 per cent. cheaper than Governments, and we believe them to be equally as secure an investment.

Parties investing this month will make one per cent. on the May coupon.

The counties along the line are the most populous and richest agricultural districts in the State. The local traffic will be very profitable, and the through travel and freight must be as large as that of any Western road.

There are numerous excellent coal fields on the line, which will also be a profitable source of revenue to the road.

With great satisfaction we recommend this security to investors and trustees of estates as a first-class investment.

Sealed proposals, to be indorsed on the envelope "Bids for supplies advertised," will be received at this office until 1 o'clock P. M., the 1st proximo, for the following supplies, of the best quality, and delivered free of expense at the Navy-yard, New-York, subject to the usual inspection thereat, to wit:

BUREAU OF YARDS AND DOCKS.

One steam fire-engine, Silsby's make, to be a first-class engine, complete in all respects, fitted to be drawn by horses or men, and to be accepted after a satisfactory trial.

BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIRS.

54 yards Brussels carpet, 20 inches wide, for camp stools.

BUREAU OF EQUIPMENT AND RECRUITING.

10 barrels Stockholm tar, per barrel; 600 pounds 4 to 8 thread cotton twine, and 350 pounds pure beeswax, per pound.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids that may not be deemed advantageous to the Government, and to award each article or item separate, as may be most to its interest. Responsible security required for the prompt and faithful delivery of supplies awarded within 20 days, blank forms for which may be obtained at this office. Proposals not duly indorsed on the envelope, and not made in all respects to conform with this advertisement, and blank forms furnished, will not be considered. Parties making proposals are invited to be present at the hour above named, when the bids will be opened.

J. C. ELDREDGE,
Paymaster United States Navy.

PROPOSALS FOR SUPPLIES.

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22, 1869. }

Sealed proposals, in duplicate, will be received at this office until 12 M. on FRIDAY, the 30th instant, for supplying the Signal Service of the Army with the following articles, viz.:

Twenty-five (25) HAND TELESCOPES, with straps and caps complete.

Sixty-five (65) MARINE GLASSES, (Binocular,) with cases and straps complete.

The whole to be delivered on or before the 1st of July next.

The telescopes must be of not less than thirty-three (33,) and the marine glasses of not less than five, (5,) magnifying powers, and both of defining power and make similar and equal to the models in this office.

Envelopes to be indorsed "Proposals," and addressed to the undersigned.

Brevet Major U. S. A.,
Property and Disbursing Officer.

ARMY BUILDINGS, CORNER HOUSTON AND GREENE STS., NEW-YORK, April 19, 1869. }

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECeived at this office until 12 o'clock M., April 30, 1869, for one hundred thousand pounds of Army Tobacco.

The proposals will state accurately in detail the quality and kind of Tobacco; its history, if any, as to its keeping qualities in hot climates and in transportation; of what leaf, as to stock, year and curing, the wrapper and filler is to be made; whether the binder is used, what casing is used, and when, where and how to be manufactured; in what kind of package put up for shipment, and whether machine or hand made.

From three to five samples of one hundred pounds each will accompany the proposals, which will be paid for at fair market rates, (if so desired by the proposer,) when proved to be of sufficient good quality for sales to troops.

The proposals will contain the condition that the quantity may be increased one hundred thousand pounds or one hundred and fifty thousand pounds, if desired by the Department, at the same rates and conditions of contract.

The Tobacco which shall in all respects be deemed best to meet the requirements of the army—reference being had to price, quality, package and all circumstances—will be accepted.

An officer of the army and an expert will be required to examine and inspect the Tobacco in the leaf, in course of manufacture, and when shipped.

Two sureties, who will agree to guarantee the execution of the contract according to its true intent and meaning, and will enter into a bond in the sum of $10,000 to that effect, if required, will sign the bids as well as the proposer.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

EUROPE.

In Spain the conscription has been effected without any opposition of importance.

The recently-discovered Mazzinian conspiracy seems to have been more serious than was at first imagined.

A Committee of the Federal Council of the Zollverein proposes to place a duty on imported petroleum.

The Irish Church Disestablishment bill was considered in committee by the British House of Commons last evening. A member moved to strike out the clause providing for the maintenance of certain church buildings as national monuments. Mr. Gladstone accepted the amendment, which was then carried.

CHINA.

The British Minister at Pekin has forwarded to his Government advices strongly conflicting with the statements of Mr. Burlingame. He denies that the Chinese Government proposes to adopt progressive ideas in harmony with the Western nations.

INDIA.

Telegraphic dispatches from Bombay announce the pacification of Cabool, all the principal Afghan chieftains having given in their allegiance to the Ameer Shere Aali.

CUBA.

It is rumored from Havana that the Governor intended to call a meeting yesterday, and force the people to sign a protest against the proceedings of the New-York Junta.

GENERAL.

The Odd Fellows throughout the country celebrated the semi-centennial of the foundation of their Order yesterday. The event seems to have been fêted generally in a very pleasant manner.

Secretary Boutwell has issued an order requiring the collection of the customs tax upon all goods purchased in Canada and brought to the United States. This has special reference to fancy articles purchased at Niagara Falls.

The peach crop of Maryland, except in a few locations, is said to have not been seriously injured by the late frosts.

The Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco has addressed an urgent appeal by telegraph, to the President, against any changes in the personnel of the Branch Mint until the present stringency in the money market shall have passed away.

Dr. Adelaide Grennan, of St. Louis, has been appointed Examining Physician of the Homeopathic Mutual Life Insurance Company of New-York—the first appointment of the kind ever made.

The armorers employed in the United States Armory, at Springfield, Mass., have published their views in regard to the Eight-hour law and the wages due under its provisions. They specially thank Congress and Senator Wilson for the position they have taken on the question.

A row of ten frame buildings was burned in Chicago yesterday morning, involving a loss of $150,000.

The boilers of the steamer St. Elo burst, in Mobile Bay, yesterday morning. The steward was blown overboard, and drowned, and six others of her officers injured. None of the passengers were hurt.

It is reported from Crestline, Ohio, that the female gymnast, Senyah, with Yankee Robinson, missed her leap and fell, but was not killed. No further particulars have been received.

Serious charges of malversation have been made against the Commissioners of the New State-house of Illinois. The accuser is the late Secretary of the Board.

Conflicting statements are made in regard to the alleged declaration of Josephine Brown that her husband left a written confession of the murder of Angie Stewart. The balance of evidence, however, appears to be in favor of the report that she has made some such statement to a journalist at Poughkeepsie.

The meeting of the national delegates of the Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church convened in Cincinnati yesterday. About fifty delegates were in attendance. The questions of domestic mission agencies were discussed.

A petition is being numerously signed in Boston requesting the President to appoint Frederick Douglass as Minister to Brazil.

Rev. J. C. Lovejoy has been removed from the Boston Custom-house, and his place has been given to Charles L. Mitchell, a member of the Massachusetts Fifty-fourth Regiment, who lost a leg in the service of his country, and was one of the first two colored men ever elected to the Legislature.

During the freshet of last week an emigrant train was delayed thirty hours on the road, and two infants died from exposure and want of food.

The Massachusetts Senate has, by a vote of 17 to 6, decided to exempt lager-beer from the provisions of the Liquor law.

It is said that Judge Richardson, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, does not intend to remain in the Department longer than till next Fall at the most, and that if he can be allowed to absent himself from Boston till that time he will take the Judgeship to which Governor Claflin has appointed him.

A prosecution of a very serious character was yesterday commenced in the United States Commissioner's Court at Boston, against Captain Warren Gardner and Henry Brown, on the charge of feloniously casting away a schooner upon the high seas. The offence is punishable with death. Both prisoners were fully committed for trial.

A young lady, an adopted daughter of Mr. Edward Hilton, of North Oxford, Mass., came to a melancholy and remarkable end on Saturday night. Her clothing caught fire as she was proceeding to her bedroom, the flames communicated to the house, and both it and the barn adjoining were destroyed.

William Varley, alias "Reddy the Blacksmith," who was the principal actor in a robbery for which an accomplice, Thomas Brennan, was tried, convicted and sent to State Prison for fifteen years, is now at large on $2,000 bail.

Maurice Leonard, an ex-convict, who was indicted for breaking Benedict the jeweler's window last February, and stealing $1,800 worth of jewelry, was yesterday acquitted in the Court of General Sessions. Four of his friends swore to an alibi.

The Union League Club on last evening presented a farewell address to John Jay, Esq., their retiring President, on the occasion of his anticipated departure as Minister to the Court of Vienna.

Strenuous efforts are being made to capture the Captain and first mate of the ship Richard Robinson, who are accused of cruel treatment of sailors while at sea.

United States District-Attorney Pierrepont took the oath of office yesterday before Judge Blatchford.

The spirit-photography case was renewed at the Tombs yesterday. Some important evidence was given by Mr. Charles W. Hull, showing that the so-called spirit photographs might easily be taken by an expert without the modus operandi being detected.

At a meeting of the Board of Health yesterday Dr. Harris sent in a report showing that, in 1868, 900 glandered horses were destroyed in this City, or one and a half per cent. of the entire number in this City. A report was also received showing that the ordinance of the Board in relation to explosive burning fluids is constantly violated.

Cotton was quiet and heavy yesterday. Breadstuffs were generally inactive; new Corn lower; Oats dearer. Provisions quiet; Lard cheaper. Sugars dull and weak. Rio Coffee in fair demand and steady. Freights quiet.

Transactions in beef cattle were moderate, with sufficient activity to clear the yards yesterday of all desirable stock. Prices ranged from 14c.@16c. for good cattle. Most of the sales were made at about 15c. ℔ ℔., net weight. A few selected bullocks were reported as sold at 16½c.@17c. ℔ ℔. The poorest lots were sold for 10c.@12c. ℔ ℔. Calves are in large supply and selling at 5c.@8c. for common, and 9c.@10½c. for the best. The supply of sheep continues quite too heavy for the requirements of an active trade; consequently sheep are selling slowly at 7½c.@8c. ℔ ℔., live weight, for choice lots; unsheared, 7c.@9c.; good to prime, 6c.@7c., and 4c.@5½c. for common to good lots. The hog market is dull, with prices fluctuating and uncertain. Prime corn-fed hogs alive sold slowly yesterday at 10c.@10½c. ℔ ℔.; common hogs, 9¾c.@10c.; dressed, 13c.@13¾c. ℔ ℔. Prices are not firm at these quotations.

The Pacific Railroad Litigation.—Administration of Justice in New-York.

Since our previous reference to this subject not much of importance or interest has occurred. Proceedings in Judge Barnard's Court seem to be suspended, and we hear no more of the noise of drills and sledges, under his orders, upon the safes of the Company, and Sheriff O'Brien's deputies are not in requisition.

The question is soon to be discussed before Judge Nelson, in the United States Circuit Court, whether the case is really pending in that Court or in the State Court, and this may involve legal principles of public interest.

One event of special significance, however, has occurred. The Union Pacific Railroad Company has removed its general offices from the City of New-York to the City of Boston, and has there formally organized and proceeded to business. Knowing nothing whatever of this purpose of the Company, but judging from the general feeling of insecurity felt in this community in view of the strange and alarming proceedings before some of our Judges, and especially in this case, we declared our opinion, in a former article, that unless there was a speedy reform in our Courts, capital and commercial business would be driven from New-York.

We wish, for the credit of New-York, that this removal could be regarded as the flight of a guilty corporation from justice, to a place where guilt might hope to find impunity; but with all their favorable bias for New-York, and all their possible prejudice against Boston, can there be found any eminent lawyers, merchants or bankers in this City who do not feel, with humiliation and dread they scarce know how to express, that the chances of obtaining justice in the Supreme Court of Massachusetts are far greater than in the same Court in New-York City: and that this removal of this great corporation is due to that feeling, and to the disgraceful causes that have made the feeling general in this community?

James Fisk, Jr., is a resident of Boston, as he claims. Will he pursue the Company there, and institute a suit against the Company in the Supreme Court of Massachusetts, or will he prefer his chances before Judge Barnard? Fisk is a litigious fellow, worthy of no space in these columns, and the Company and its managers may have been, for aught we know, guilty of frauds in their dealings, and yet the matter be of no great general importance; but when the administration of justice falls into suspicion and disgrace in this City, when great public corporations begin to flee from it, because they believe they cannot get justice here, a crisis of grave import is before us; and we feel it to be our duty to call public attention to it, and also to this case, not because we feel any interest in the fortunes of the litigants in the case, but because its incidents illustrate the course of judicial administration before some of our Judges, which deeply concerns this City and the whole country.

A correspondent, to whose article we gave place a few days since, referred to our former articles, and insisted we were mistaken in certain legal positions, but finally excused us on the ground that we did not understand the law. We were not mistaken in any legal principles, and do not accept the excuse. This journal did not assert what our correspondent states, and neither disputed nor attached any consequence to the technical legal rules he refers to.

We asserted, and we repeat, that no case was made in Fisk's bill or papers for any such redress as the cases our correspondent refers to illustrate; and no precedent for such a case as Fisk's, or for such action as the Court has taken in it, can be found in the records of any English tribunal, or before any American Judge outside of the City of New-York. We repeat, that to grant an ex parte injunction on such flimsy, suspicious papers, only a few hours before the time of the annual election of a great Corporation, and to stay that election until the rights of Fisk were admitted or determined, was unprecedented; that it brought merited discredit on the administration of justice in the Supreme Court, and that it needs explanation. We affirm that no Judge who is capable of doing such an act, and the other acts which have attended this litigation, and the other litigation that might be referred to, and in much of which the same Fisk was a party or was interested, possesses those qualities which fit him for high judicial duties; and that by reason of the absence of such qualities and the rash, arbitrary and suspicious acts we have referred to, the Courts of New-York have lost public confidence, the community has been alarmed, and the safety of property in public estimation has been imperiled.

We have no space to enter into details, but a few examples will illustrate our meaning.

The public is familiar with the injunctions and receiverships, and the noisy proceedings and ex-parte orders in the late Chicago and Rock Island Railroad cases, and with the leading part taken in them by Judge Barnard. Only a short time since the same Judge (almost as soon as he had let off Jay Gould, Fisk's co-manager in Erie, without more than nominal punishment, for violating injunctions of Judge Barnard,) made him, Jay Gould, ex parte a receiver of the Erie Railway Company, or of many millions of the proceeds of its illegal stock, issued by Gould and Fisk and Lane. Since our article of the 15th was written, this same Judge Barnard has made Jay Gould, by an ex-parte order, receiver of the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad Company, leased by the Erie Company, in a suit just commenced and promoted by the Erie Company. Besides, most or all of these roads have been placed under injunctions in one form or another form by the same Judge. If our readers will consider the tens of millions of the annual earnings of these roads, the hundreds of thousands of men they employ, their intimate and complicated connections with the business of the country, the innumerable families interested in their securities—if above all they will look upon the map and note that the main lines of these roads reach continuously from the Atlantic Ocean to beyond the Rocky Mountains, (save the link between Cleveland and Chicago,) and have branches which put in one line would extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean—if they will bear in mind that Fisk (and perhaps others of the Erie and the Tammany Ring) has had an active if not a leading part in all this litigation,—if they will take into account that Fisk and Gould have become suddenly and enormously rich—if they shall fail to find that all the other Judges in this State, if not all those east of Pennsylvania united, have not granted injunctions and receivers on anything like so large a scale as this single Judge—if they will consider that the tribunal of this Judge is not approached because he possesses, or is believed to possess, any superior ability, judgment, learning, or other high judicial qualities—if they will ask our leading lawyers and merchants and judges their views and fears on these subjects,—they will then appreciate something of the gravity of this question of judicial administration, which is the occasion of our comments on this case. Our correspondent will deserve more attention at our hands if he will consider these grave matters, and not try again to make it appear that this journal has been discussing some trifling professional technicality unworthy a place in its columns. And we assure him we have not been influenced by any prejudice in favor of or against either party; and if it shall be made to appear that the Union Pacific Railroad Company has been guilty of frauds, it will meet only stern condemnation from us, though disclosed by a plaintiff, and in the course of proceedings, however disreputable.

We sorely need and must have learned, able and upright men upon the Bench, who deserve and command public respect and confidence. We have some such and many men at the Bar that would do honor to the Bench. But we also have Judges who have neither the character, the learning, the ability, nor the reputation that qualify them for judicial duties. At the Bar they were without patronage from the better class of our citizens; they have no claim to respect for professional learning or ability; they were and are unknown in our higher circles; their administration has demoralized the members of the Bar and brought the whole judiciary of the City into disrepute; and our leading lawyers do not hesitate to express their disgust and discouragement at the present condition of things; and no honest litigant goes into Court without dread if his case is likely to come before certain of the Judges. This state of things cannot continue without further corrupting every branch of public administration, and utterly destroying all feeling of respect for law, and finally all ability to enforce it. The lawyers themselves are to blame in no small measure. They ought to unite and make their common voice felt. They see all the best business going to those who are favorites of certain Judges or Rings, and all the honored and salutary precedents trampled upon. The upright Judges ought also to make their voice heard against these flagrant abuses. Their silence is not creditable to their self-respect or sense of duty. We want some great, manly and fearless illustration on the Bench of the dignity and lofty integrity and courage that would arouse the enthusiastic admiration of this disgraced community—some conspicuous example of a Judge which shall be an example of all that is best, and nothing that is worst, in this great City.

Sham Recommendations to Office.

We have been told that of the twenty-one Senators who had indorsed General Pile's application for the mission to Brazil, no less than five voted against his confirmation; and now an Ohio Congressman, to whom had been forwarded a certain petition for a Postmaster's appointment, is said to have received soon after "confidential" letters from no less than twenty-five of the three hundred indorsers, informing him that their candidate "was not fit for the place" to which they themselves had recommended her.

Could there be a more shameful commentary on the whole system of giving recommendations to office? While twenty-five out of three hundred indorsers retracted their words, how many of the remaining two hundred and seventy-five were sincere in their action? The difference was probably this, that while the former had some compunctions of conscience, the latter were too careless to give the matter any thought at all. How many of these Senators who voted against Mr. Ashley's confirmation had previously encouraged him by word or by signature? How many of those huge "bound volumes" of indorsements which are or have been on file at Washington are anything but shams? If the names were all checked and graded like the secret business directories of mercantile credit, what proportion of them would be responsible and marked "A 1?"

The whole system of appointment has come to be a fraud and a disgrace. But while, on the one hand, the obvious sham of it does not excuse the men who habitually make it a sham, no more does it excuse the appointing power which acts on a presumption of trustworthiness which everybody knows to be ridiculous.

The Sheriff's Extortion Bill.

The bill to "regulate" the fees of the Sheriff's office is still pending in the Legislature, and has been changed in some respects so as, it is hoped, to secure its passage, without essentially altering its character. The Sheriff's emolument depends on the fees of his office; and the effect of this bill, if passed, will be to increase enormously an income which is already greater than that of any other officer, State or National, in the whole country. As the public is but imperfectly informed on the subject, we will present a summary of that income, expressly underestimated, because the truth is such as almost to overbear belief, and can only be realized by contemplating the immensity of the business relations centering in this metropolis, all disputes and contests concerning which take their final outlet through the Sheriff's office.

In the first place, the Sheriff receives fifty cents for each case for every term it is on the calendar. The Supreme Court has an average of 6,000 cases, the Superior Court the same, and the Common Pleas 5,000; making 17,000 during nine trial terms in the year, the fees from which amount to $76,500; but these fifty cents, being frequently got from both sides, one hundred thousand dollars per annum from calendar fees alone would be a strictly moderate estimate. There are executions issued in thousands of cases which do not appear on the calendars, but reach judgment by default of answer; on every execution sixty-nine cents are received from the plaintiff, making, on 25,000 executions—a low figure—the sum of $17,250. To this are to be added the sums arising from poundage out of levies which are made under at least one-eighth of the above number of executions: the largeness of the amounts involved will place this sum, at least, at $90,000. There are 3,000 civil arrests, for which the plaintiff pays $3, making $9,000; and, on discharge from which, the defendant pays never less than $12 50, and just as frequently $50, making, by multiplication of the lowest figure, $37,500. Summonses and complaints served by Sheriff, 2,500 at one dollar each, making $2,500. One thousand replevins, $12 for taking, with $50 added for three days, "keeper" and storage charges, making $62,000. Two thousand attachments, on which the same poundage is charged as on execution, making, at the lowest average, $75,000. To all this astounding list must be added the vague charges for commissions, "keepers," of attached property, whose services appear in the bill at outrageously fictitious rates, auction fees, bills of sale, &c., &c., ad infinitum.

But this is not all. The Ludlow-street Jail, where persons are imprisoned on civil arrest, is let out on speculation for $15,000 or more per annum, and the lessee drives a profitable business by grinding out of the prisoners the prices for comforts necessary to relieve their hard condition. And, but a few days ago, a writer exposed in the Tribune a bill, copied from the original on file with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, wherein the County of New-York stood debtor to Mr. O'Brien in the sum of $12,795 50, for summoning, making reports of convictions and conveying mythical prisoners to impossible prisons; and this was for the Summer quarter when the Courts are mostly in vacation. It will be seen, therefore, that Sheriff O'Brien derives no less than $300,000 per annum from his office, a fact which would stagger belief were the data not plain, and did we not reflect that the immense business growth of this City has, by a mere gradual process of multiplication, carried up to this immense sum fees measured by a scale which was established when the business it applied to would return no more than a reasonable income.

In the above statements nothing has been said about the distinct and individual mines wrought by each Deputy Sheriff on his private account, in the form of what may be ironically called gratuities from parties to suits, the gross sum of which is far greater than the income of the Sheriff himself; so that the income of our model Sheriff and his henchmen makes a grand footing up of more than one million per annum.

We have shown what the revenue of the Sheriff is; we have only to say that should this bill pass, the Shrievalty of New-York will become, in the language of Dr. Johnson, "a potentiality of wealth beyond the dreams of avarice." Its revenue cannot fall short of a million. That any other individual should claim such endowment from the public is preposterous; that Sheriff O'Brien should do it is perfectly natural, and it is just as natural that a Senate composed of honorable men should cast such a bill from their table with indignant rebuke of its presumption. For what are the special grounds on which this man claims an increase of fees and the sweeping into his office of duties which never have belonged to it, and which neither the members of the Bar nor the parties to be affected would like to see discharged by his hands? Is it because he has driven from office the former deputies who, as a general thing, did their work well and honestly, and has appointed rowdies from one of the most desperate gangs that ever infested New-York?—men who last Winter shot down citizens at the Broadway Theatre while carrying through, by an extraordinary and indecent mode, the service of civil process: men who figure in our Oyer and Terminer as murderers of policeman and as conspirators with burglars, who, when arrested, tried and condemned at great public labor and cost, are set free upon the community before they have reached their place of punishment? Is it because the Sheriff has signalized his personal fitness for his place by his training of an abandoned horde who roamed over this City at the last election, each one neutralizing, by "repeating," the votes of fifty or sixty honest citizens? Is it, in fine, because his office has become the sweat-box of suitors, and the disgust of the legal profession? These are the only truthful reasons he can offer, and we offer them for him.

Now this bill is at present in the Senate Committee, and it may be that the Sheriff, despairing of its passage, will seek to reduce its hideousness by altering some of its features. But we call upon the Committee to make no compromise with this plan for public robbery; that would be a crime, only less in degree than the approval of the original bill. The real way to amend it is to provide a regular salary for the Sheriff and his deputies, the payment of all fees into the Treasury, and a declaration that the retention of any fees, or the receipt of more than is by law allowed, either by him or his deputies, should be a felony, punishable by fine and imprisonment. We call on all Senators, whether Republicans or Democrats, to vote against this bill; but we address ourselves particularly to the Republican Senators not to legalize this bald infamy, which will disgrace their party, as constituting what is termed the responsible majority. We are gratified to know that all the Republican Senators are opposed to it, except Williams, but it matters little to anybody but his constituents whether he is for or against it, as long as the remainder maintain their honest opposition.

We have no idea that this bill will ever reach the Governor; but, if it does, we shall have an opportunity of testing the impugned sincerity of his firm and constant veto of all such bills. O'Brien has bragged that the Governor has promised to sign his bill, and dare not veto it; he has struck Hoffman's shield the blow of defiance, and we shall listen to the ring of its metal.

The Rosenberg Case.

The World speaks of the prosecution of Rosenberg for being engaged in the fraudulent naturalizations of last Fall as one "which the Supreme Court at Washington so summarily squelched." The World should be more careful not to excite false hopes in the minds of its friends. The Supreme Court at Washington has done no such thing. What it has done is this only: The defence in the Rosenberg case made a motion to quash the indictment, on which motion the Judges gave a certificate of a division of opinion, and on that certificate the case was taken up to the Supreme Court; and the Court has said that the case was not properly brought up there, because a motion to quash an indictment is one which it is in the discretion of the Court below to grant or not, and such questions are not proper subjects of review by the Appellate Court.

The result of it is that the case remains where it was, and may be moved on for trial at any time. It was our idea at the time that the Government made a mistake in not trying the case and letting the law points come up for review after the trial. There is an opportunity now to rectify that mistake and to let the public have the facts in the case as brought out by a trial in Court.

Hawkins vs. Decker.

The contest before the Assembly Committee on Elections, with reference to the seat from Richmond County, resulted—after all the usual tactics of delay had been exhausted—in a majority report of the Committee in favor of Mr. Hawkins, the contestant, and a minority report in favor of Mr. Decker, the incumbent. The case will come up to-morrow for decision. Staten Island is so near New-York that the baleful influence of our politics has always cast its shadow there. The Democracy count upon it regularly as easy prey and as a free field for the unlimited use of repeaters. There, if necessary, floods of naturalization papers could be poured. Majorities could be altered to meet emergencies, and all the ingenious expedients that are so successfully practiced by our wily adversaries could be carried out ad libitum.

Our friends there, however, are active. They have greatly reduced the enemy, and, through a split in the local nominations in the Democratic Party last Fall, they elected a Republican to the Assembly. By means of frauds in one of the districts, he was counted out, and the election certificate was given to a Democrat. Not content to let the matter rest here, and believing that to contest this election might make the majority party more cautious in the future, they took testimony in advance of the session, due notice being given of their intention so to do. This evidence disclosed a startling amount of fraud and gross irregularities, the legal effect of which was to entitle Mr. Hawkins, the Republican candidate to the seat.

At this investigation no attempt to rebut the effect of the testimony was made by the member who had the certificate in his pocket. The same means were open to him of disproving the facts that were there put in evidence, if he were capable of doing it; but he preferred to take his chances of securing the seat and protracting the investigation during the session, while he, whether really entitled to it or not, was de facto the member.

The two gentlemen presented themselves at Albany. The one with his certificate of election; the other with his overwhelming proof that he was entitled to the certificate—and that the possession by the first of that document was a fraud upon himself and every other citizen in the district. If the authority to take testimony in advance of a session means anything, it means that this step shall be taken for the purpose of exhausting the case and settling the question at the outset, so that if the contestant shall be found entitled to the seat he shall derive the practical benefit from it of participating in the legislation of the session, instead of dancing attendance on the Committee of Elections for the hundred days.

Mr. Hawkins presented proof at the opening of the session sufficient to satisfy any candid man that Mr. Decker was not entitled to the seat, and the legal effect of this proof was to confer the seat upon him. Against this Mr. Decker offered nothing but the certificate of election.

Clearly, if the statute under which these proceedings were taken means anything, the seat should have been given to Hawkins, who had proved his right to it, and if Decker chose further to contest the matter, the opportunity could then have been afforded him. This course, however, was not adopted. The pending Senatorial contest precluded its possibility. The case was referred, and has dragged its slow length along to the report of the Committee. And now comes the peculiar feature of this case. Notwithstanding the high principles involved, notwithstanding the necessity for the sharp rebuke of the high-handed outrages which the testimony showed had been committed on the rights of the contestant, the whole matter, after a tie vote on the question of substituting the minority report in favor of the incumbent, was postponed until Tuesday.

Will those Republicans who shirked the responsibility of a vote on this question and those who boldly voted for the postponement, dare, when the matter comes up for action, to place themselves on the record again in the same unenviable position? Is it possible that they believe in the doctrines of the minority report? If so let them explain their course and let the public understand the matter. Perhaps they can justify themselves; if so they should do it.

MINOR TOPICS.

The French and Prussian Ministers at Washington are both about to leave this country for Europe. Are they going to communicate to their respective Governments such of the views of President Grant as they may have discovered?

The spiritual resurrectionists fared rather badly in the Court-room yesterday. As it now seems that anybody can photograph ghosts by mechanical means, we may hope to see the quackery exploded by their universal appearance.

Everybody who is not possessed of a nature of the most sanguinary and Hibernian kind, will be delighted to hear that Senator Sumner has succeeded in pacifying the fearful passions and calming the awful rage of Messrs. Sprague and Abbott. We have been looking for something quite tremendous from the two infuriated Senators—something at which we should be appalled and awe-stricken; but the ending of the affair is quite as absurd and ludicrous as have been most of its incidents from the beginning. Let us now have an end of the wretched and disgusting squabble. The correspondence between Abbott and Sprague will be found in another column.

We should like to see a searching investigation of some one of the cases of "death in a Station-house," which are constantly being reported in the papers. We fear that not a few of these dreadful deaths may be traced to the unjustifiable use of the police club upon persons who are arrested as being drunk or as being disorderly. In regard to more than one of the several cases which have recently occurred, there are good reasons for being suspicious. Will not the Coroner's jury, in the next instance of the kind, take the trouble to find out something about it?

We notice from time to time in our European exchanges that the "degree of LL.D. has been conferred upon" some obscure person or other, "by the Tusculum College, U. S. America." We have never had the pleasure of hearing of this American College which distributes honors so freely abroad, and we have no idea of the price at which it sells them.

The conduct of our Common Council is habitually so bad that we are always compelled to scourge them whenever our attention is directed to them. O, how we should like if they would behave themselves in such a way that we could always praise them! How we should like to write beautiful articles every morning eulogizing them. How we should like to take up their actions, one by one, and point out their honesty and beneficence. We can tell them one step which they are now at liberty to take, which will secure them the praises of the community. A petition is now circulating among our citizens, asking that there shall be set apart (we quote:)

> "For the purposes of public salt-water baths, free to all persons from sunrise to 10 P. M., with superstructures and appliances suited to the proprieties and needs of the establishment, to be constructed, maintained and regulated under the direction of such Municipal Board or branch of the City Government as may be determined by the said Common Council, a slip or basin two hundred feet in front, at the easterly end of the Battery, in the City of New-York, adjoining the lands under water upon the westerly side thereof, heretofore conveyed by the State of New-York to the United States Government."

There is a proposition before the Common Council to assign to private parties, for their own benefit, the location referred to. If that body will reject this proposition, and adopt the one referred to in the public petition, they will receive the daily gratitude of tens of thousands of citizens and the applause of the newspapers.

A St. Louis dispatch informs us that a lady (Dr. Miss Adelaide Grennan) has been appointed examining physician of an insurance company of that city. We should suppose her examinations would be confined to persons of her own sex.

The Spanish authorities in Havana did a very foolish thing in refusing to permit the transmission of a dispatch which conveyed the news that the "Mexican Congress had authorized President Juarez to recognize the Cuban insurgents as belligerents whenever he thinks proper," and that vessels "bearing the Cuban flag are admitted into the ports of Mexico." General Dulce ought to have known that whether or not he permitted this news to come from Havana by cable, we should get it a few days later by the regular mail. He may exercise his censorship over news published in Cuba, but he had better not attempt a censorship of the news for this country.

As soon as the new District-Attorney (Edwards Pierrepont) was sworn into office yesterday, he said his first duty was to call up the Fullerton case, and secure its early trial. It subsequently appeared that the trial would be begun in six weeks.

When two offices seek one man who does not care about either of them,—it must be rather curious. The gentleman who was lately appointed Assistant Secretary of the Treasury has just been offered a commission as Justice of the Superior Court of Massachusetts; and as he was embarrassed by the offer of the first place, he is still more embarrassed by the offer of the second. Such a man must be the envy of thousands.

We yesterday reminded the appointing powers that there were a great many disabled Union soldiers to whom even small offices under the Government would be better than begging or organ-grinding. Lest our remark should have been overlooked, we repeat it. And we would add that while it may be well to remember the political office-hunters, and the negro place-seekers, it is very mean to forget the brave men whose bodies were shattered in upholding the country's flag.

Perhaps it is no great matter that lawyers can drive a coach and four through an act of Congress, but when the working people begin to drive their trucks and wagons through the same, it is quite another affair. Congress framed the Eight-hour law in such an unbusiness-like way as to provoke the wagon-charge of the navy-yard men, since it said nothing of wages, leaving the part of Hamlet out of the play, and the Secretary of the Navy to exercise his discretion—which was not only wrong in itself, but has caused a great deal of unnecessary trouble.

Talking of free baths for the people, it may be that the water about the Battery would be rather impure for the purpose, considering the flow from the sewers. Why not make a beautiful circle of bathing-places round the strand of Governor's Island, which lies useless, and which is surrounded by such a purer body of water? New-York needs some large metropolitan institution of the sort, and could make it nowhere else so conveniently. Boats could run across every five minutes for, say two cents the round trip—a cheap outlay for so pleasant a Summer enjoyment. Warm baths for all seasons could be got up at the same place. For a metropolis so hemmed in by water privileges on all sides, there is no city so badly off for bathing-places as New-York.

The Duke of Argyll, in a speech at a recent banquet in London, took occasion to refer in a very complimentary manner to our election of the first American soldier as President of the United States. He alluded to the admiration which is everywhere paid to the successful warrior, and which does not diminish as the world goes on, but is as great in the present day among the most civilized nations of the world as it has ever been even among the rudest barbarians. Upon this point he said:

> "Honor is paid to the successful chief. I know that there are some living philosophers who tell us this feeling is a great mistake, but I am one of those persons who believe that the instinct of mankind is true when their reason may be deceived. I believe that there is an instinct in the homage paid to great warriors. This was demonstrated the other day in a striking manner by a nation which is in some respects the most civilized in the world—I mean the United States of America; and the occasion to which I refer is the selection by the people of that country of a successful soldier as their Chief Magistrate. The truth is, the military character includes within itself some of the higest attributes of the human mind. That being the case, the instincts of mankind in their appreciation of acts of heroism are, I think, quite justifiable."

The Duke of Argyll is always philosophical, whether he deals with questions of politics, or science, or religion; and in this case he was especially happy, both in his illustration and its elucidation.

The magnificent new Lodge-rooms of Prince of Orange Lodge No. 16, A. F. and A. M., in Booth's building, corner of Twenty-third-street and Sixth-avenue, will be opened for the first time next Saturday evening. The reception to be given on the occasion promises to be a very select and enjoyable affair.

WASHINGTON.

The Difficulty Between Senators Sprague and Abbott—An Amicable Adjustment Secured by the Interference of Friends—Explanatory and Satisfactory Letters Passed Between the Belligerents.

Special Dispatches to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Monday, April 26.

The affair of honor between Senators ABBOTT and SPRAGUE has at length been settled in a manner satisfactory to all parties concerned. Both gentlemen remained quietly at home yesterday, and no movement whatever was made toward effecting the reconciliation which has taken place to-day. Mr. ABBOTT would have written to Mr. SPRAGUE on Saturday, but the manner in which the latter would receive any communication looking to a sensible settlement of the difficulty was extremely doubtful. Mr. ABBOTT intrusted the matter to Senators MORTON, POOL and SHERMAN, and signified his willingness to be bound by their decision. This morning Mr. SUMNER and Mr. SHERMAN waited on Mr. SPRAGUE, whom they found closeted with PET HALSTEAD. The subject was talked over, and, after some hesitation on the part of the Rhode Island Senator, he stated that the portion of his speech which Mr. ABBOTT had construed into an insult had been written nearly a week before it was delivered to the Senate. He further stated that he would have no objection to say this to Senator ABBOTT if he made the inquiry. Neither Senator ABBOTT nor his friends desired anything more, and the following correspondence passed between the two gentlemen before 2 o'clock this afternoon. A sensation has been lost by this amicable settlement, but the United States Senate and the country has saved a disgrace.

WASHINGTON, April 26.

To Hon. William Sprague:

DEAR SIR: On the 22d inst., in the United States Senate, you uttered the following language: "Mr. President—In answer to the tirade of the Senator from Nevada and the Senator from North Carolina, I am reminded of a little illustration. In my travels from the centre here into the rural districts, through the woods and farms of the surrounding neighborhood, chance at one time brought me to a farm-house. I found on looking up a large mastiff and a mongrel puppy dog. The little dog moved on me with rapidity from behind, bit at my heels, and frightened at his temerity, ran howling away, followed by his larger companion. The Senate will observe that the mongrel whining puppy, encouraged by the mastiff, and emboldened to attack from the shadow of his backer, ran rapidly away, alarmed at his temerity, while the overgrown cur followed, with both ears lapped and his tail between his legs, to a place of safety beside his menaced companion." This language has been understood as meant, in part, to be applied to me. I am not aware that I gave any occasion in my remarks for you to wish to be offensive or insulting in reply. I therefore deem it proper to ask that you state distinctly whether you intended to apply any of the above offensive language to myself.

I am, Sir, very respectfully,

JOSEPH C. ABBOTT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 26, 1869.

To Hon. Jos. C. Abbott, United States Senate:

SIR: I have no hesitation in at once replying to your note of this morning just received, that the paragraph of my speech referred to was written and in manuscript some time before it was delivered in the Senate, and before you participated in the debate, and therefore was not intended to apply to you. Your obedient servant,

W. SPRAGUE.

The following letter in response to the above, closed the correspondence in a manner satisfactory to all concerned;

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 26, 1869.

Hon. Wm. Sprague:

SIR: I have pleasure in acknowleding your letter of this date, which shows that I had misconceived your language. My own allusion to you afterward in the Senate was founded on this misconception, and I ask you to consider it as unsaid. I am, Sir, very respectfully,

JOS. C. ABBOTT.

SENATOR SPRAGUE'S LETTERS.

Senator SPRAGUE is availing himself of the permission to print his letters in the Congressional Globe to the fullest extent. The paper came out as usual at noon to-day with twenty columns of letters in solid nonpareil type, and, like the sensation stories, the announcement is made that they are to be continued; but no intimation whatever is given of their probable length. Among the ardent and enthusiastic supporters of the distinguished Rhode Island Senator, who go into raptures over his financial theories, and approve his various plans to regulate the social and political condition of the universe, and who write to him for copies of his late orations, quite a large number are from New-York and vicinity.

It may interest newspaper men to know that Senator SPRAGUE has an organ of his own. It is reported in well-informed circles here that he is now the principal, if not the sole, owner of the National Intelligencer, having within the last few weeks paid a mortgage on that establishment to the amount of $48,000.

PRESIDENT GRANT'S APPOINTMENTS.

As pertinent to the TIMES editorial rebuke of the attacks on President GRANT, charging him with having appointed an undue proportion of his own relations to office, the following facts should be stated: The President has appointed no relative of his own to any office whatsoever, unless it be SILAS HUDSON, of Iowa, Minister to Honduras, who may possibly be a cousin of the President, but nothing nearer. General GRANT's father, now Postmaster at Covington, Ky., was appointed to that position by President JOHNSON. Prof. KRAMER, now Consul at Leipsic, who married General GRANT's sister, was appointed to that place, I believe, by President LINCOLN. The President has appointed two brothers-in-law of Mrs. GRANT to positions under him, viz.: Mr. JAS. T. CASEY, to be Collector of the Port of New-Orleans, and Dr. ALEXANDER SHARP, who was appointed Postmaster at Richmond by Mr. JOHNSON, to be United States Marshal for the District of Columbia. The latter office has always been regarded as part of the official household of the President, and it has been the custom to appoint some relative or intimate personal friend to the position; thus Mr. LINCOLN appointed his former partner and warm personal friend, Mr. LAMON, and Mr. JOHNSON appointed his personal friend, Mr. GOODING. Mr. LINCOLN also appointed Mr. TODD, his wife's brother, to be Governor of Dakota, and those who have abused both the President and his brother-in-law, General DENT, because of the confidential position the latter now occupies in the official household, seem to have very short memories, or they would remember that Mr. JOHNSON appointed his own son to be Private Secretary, and that Mr. BUCHANAN appointed his nephew, Mr. HENRY, to the same position. The comparison might be extended to the benefit of the President if it was at all necessary.

THE INDIAN BUREAU.

General ELY S. PARKER, the new Commissioner of Indian Affairs, was formally inducted into office to-day, Commissioner TAYLOR retiring at noon. The clerks and attachés of the Bureau were then presented and received by General PARKER. He informed them that no immediate changes would be made because there were several more important matters which demanded his early attention, but at no distant day he would devote himself to reorganization of the Bureau, when the revision of the clerical force might be expected. There was a large number of persons in waiting, seeking audience with the new Commissioner, and he held a levée for the greater part of the day. The unfinished appointments for the Indian service will be one of the first duties which will receive the attention of Commissioner PARKER, in conjunction with the Secretary of the Interior.

THE PATENT OFFICE.

Colonel S. S. FISHER, the new Commissioner of Patents, was also sworn into office at noon to-day, and shortly afterward was waited on by the Chief and Assistant Examiners and by the entire clerical force of the office. He received them all with urbanity and courtesy, and several of the principal examiners expressed themselves highly pleased with the manner and bearing of the new Commissioner. Colonel FISHER's thorough, practical and professional knowledge of the patent business will add very largely to the efficiency of the office. It is proposed to transfer the Pension Bureau to the building on G-street, north of the Patent Office, now rented for the uses of the Interior Department, which will enable the force of the Patent Office to expand into the rooms now occupied by the Pension Office, room which they greatly need. The retiring Commissioner, Judge FOOTE, took leave of his late associates amid many and sincere expressions of regret.

VISITORS TO THE PRESIDENT.

There are about twenty members of the Senate still in the city. Nearly all of them had interviews with the President to-day. Among them were Messrs. Morton, Schurz, Spencer, Kellogg, Harris, Warner, Rice and others. Senator SCHURZ's interview was enlivened by a pleasant incident. The President remarked: "General, I see by the Democratic papers that you and I have been having a fierce fight." "Yes," said SCHURZ, "that is the first I had heard of it." "Well," said the President, "if it isn't fiercer on your side than it is on mine, it isn't much of a fight." "Well, if it isn't fiercer on your side than it is on mine, we can afford to make up," responded the Senator, jocularly. "Well, let's make up," said General GRANT. This short and agreeable way of adjusting differences was probably not without its effect on ABBOTT and SPRAGUE, who settled theirs later in the day.

OFFICIAL INTEGRITY.

Letter from Hon. J. M. Ashley, Governor of Montana.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

My attention has just been called to an article, which is credited to the TIMES, in which I am unjustly assailed and a great wrong done me. I, therefore, ask you to permit me to reply.

1. In no public speech or letter did I ever say that "I was in possession of proof that ANDREW JOHNSON was an accomplice of the assassins of Mr. LINCOLN," nor did I ever attempt to sustain such a charge, either before the Judiciary Committee or the Assassination Committee, "by the introduction of suborned witnesses." The public records of the two Committees is the best evidence of this fact. I am confident that no member of either of said Committees, whether for or against impeachment, has ever made such a charge against me.

2. I have never "been convicted of, nor have I ever confessed to any act of official corruption," and what is far more important to me and mine, I have the consciousness of being guilty of no act, official or otherwise, during my term of service in Congress, inconsistent with the character of a Representative.

The leading men of the nation with whom I have been intimately associated for the past ten years, and who are better acquainted with me than my assailants, have over and over again voluntarily testified to this fact, and are ready to do so again.

Whatever interpretation from the "corruption" standpoint may be put upon my letters to Mr. CASE, I have always felt confident that that correspondence read, in the light of the testimony of the only parties fully cognizant of all the facts, would acquit me of any intentional wrong. And so far as I know this has been the result, almost without exception, with all who have given the matter an impartial examination.

Such has been the case with the great body of intelligent and honorable Republicans of my old Congressional District; and in spite of the fact of the usual tendency among those who have insufficient means of knowing, to prejudge a public man upon charges made against his official integrity, I have been unanimously renominated four times by the Republican Party of the Tenth District. Those who opposed my reelection in 1862 made a direct issue on those letters. To some extent they were used again in 1864. In 1866 and in 1868 they were not made the subject of public discussion during either canvass.

After my reëlection in 1862, I asked the House of Representatives to appoint a committee to investigate the charges made against me in that canvass. They granted my request. The Committee appointed consisted of HARRISON G. BLAKE, of Ohio, and J. P. C. SHANKS, of Indiana, Republicans; S. L. CASEY, of Kentucky, Union and Judge JOHN W. NOEL, of Missouri, and EDWARD HAIGHT, of New-York, Democrats. The Committee gave the matter committed to them, as their report will show, a thorough investigation, and unanimously declared that I had done no improper act. I give the concluding paragraph of the report, drawn by Judge NOEL:

"The Committee, therefore, find from the evidence, which is herewith submitted, nothing showing that there was a condition precedent demanded from F. M. CASE for his appointment as Surveyor-General of the Territory of Colorado, or for the appointment of any of his subordinates, by Hon. J. M. ASHLEY, and the evidence conclusively showing no illegal or corrupt acts on the part of said ASHLEY touching said appointments, ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject."

During the investigation I did not appear either in person or by attorney before the Committee to defend myself from the charges of my assailants, as I now know from experience I ought to have done. Knowing that I intended to do no improper act, I submitted the whole matter to the Committee without an effort on my part at defence, and only came before the Committee when sent for to be examined.

So far from any "motion having been made to punish or censure me," as charged in the article which you publish, no such motion was made either in the Committee or in the House of Representatives, as the records will show.

I served ten years as member of the Committee on Territories; eight years as Chairman. During that time seven new Territories were organized, to wit: Dakota, Colorado, Nevada, Arizona, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming, and two new States, Nevada and Nebraska, were admitted into the Union.

In this ten years my opportunities have been ample for securing lands at, or near, the prospective cities and towns in all these new Territories. Had I been so disposed I could have done so, not only by purchasing at the Government price, but by gift.

The fact that I never did purchase an acre, nor any one for me, and that I never permitted an acre to be deeded to me or to any one for me, as a gift, and that I do not now and have never owned directly or indirectly an interest in lands or town lots in any of the Territories, to the value of a dollar, is the best evidence I can offer that I have not been very anxious to engage in and speculations in the Territories.

As a public man I have been deeply interested in the development of our national territories, and have given much time and thought to the subject. In 1865 I traveled over the continent and back, visiting Colorado, Utah, Montana, Idaho and Washington, and what is now Wyoming. Gentlemen at all familiar with new countries know how easily a person in the position I then held could have been "put in" to all the paper city schemes he desired, and on his own terms. In the face of my repeated indorsements by the Republican Party at home; in the face of an official investigation fully and completely exhonerating me, and in the face of the testimony of men of the highest character, who know me intimately, I am charged as a public man with fraud and corruption, and arraigned and branded as a felon in your paper.

These charges will be garbled and republished in a thousand different forms, and be read by tens of thousands who will never see their denial; so that a wrong which it will be almost impossible to repair is done me.

As a rule, I have permitted my constituents and my personal friends to defend me against all such unjust and unfounded charges, relying on these and my character, where known, to vindicate me.

Now, however, I am about to go to a new and distant community, the great majority of whose people must for some years be personally strangers to me. In advance of me will go this hurtful charge, with the weight of your indorsement. Unless you correct the wrong done me, I can only disabuse the minds of thousands, which your article will prejudice against me, by years of patient toil and fidelity to duty.

I do not pretend to an insensibility to the good opinion of honorable men, and do not hesitate to confess my sense of the deep injury done me by charges of this kind, made in a journal as prominent as yours. My impulsive temperament may have often betrayed me into writing and saying and doing ill-considered things; but I know that my official record is free from any blot. If the private letters and private conversations of our best public men, touching the appointment of their friends to office, were, unexpectedly to them, made public, it would be difficult for the great majority to have a more complete vindication from the charge of corruption or improper motive than the Committee to which I referred gave me in the report, which I herewith send you, and ask you, as an act of justice to me, to read.

I do not believe that, when you have read this report and the testimony, you will prefer to let stand the statements made in the article to which I refer. If you do not do me the justice of withdrawing them, I must content myself with the unqualified denial of the charges made, and appeal to those who know me and to the facts to vindicate me.

I can only add in conclusion, and as an earnest of what I write, that if any man can show by evidence which will satisfy any special committee in either House of Congress that I have ever belonged to the "whisky ring," the "Indian ring," or any "ring" organized to defraud or make money out of the Government; or that I ever engaged directly or indirectly in buying whisky or gold during my term of service in the House; or that I ever made a dollar because of any vote I gave in Congress; or that I ever obtained a contract from the Government, during the war or since, for any one; or that I ever purchased or accepted as a gift any lands or town lots in any of the Territories; or that, during my entire term of service in Congress, I ever did any improper or corrupt act as a Representative, I will resign the position to which I have been appointed as Governor of Montana—a position which I prefer to any in the gift of the President.

Respectfully, J. M. ASHLEY.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 21, 1869.

Sprague and Abbott.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Your paper of to-day contains an article in which you speak of a squabble in Washington as a "disgraceful business." You then make reference to certain personal threats of Senators SPRAGUE and ABBOTT against each other, and express the opinion that they ought to be placed under bonds to keep the peace.

In this paragraph you have done Governor SPRAGUE great injustice. In a late speech in the United States Senate he made use of the mastiff and the puppy by way of illustration.

One man seemed to consider himself the puppy, and of his own accord personified the mastiff in another.

The self-assumed puppy thereupon grew rageful and revengeful, and declared in the most bellicose manner that he would have satisfaction, &c. Governor SPRAGUE simply says that he did not happen to know that the skin fitted Mr. ABBOTT, or that he would be so anxious to wear it. Yet Mr. ABBOTT demands satisfaction, and on the floor of the Senate swears vengeance. Mr. SPRAGUE, in answer to these threats, says: "If attacked I will defend myself." In this he only acts the part of a bold, brave, honest man, which he certainly is.

And yet you say they ought both to be put under bonds to keep the peace. Governor SPRAGUE has made no threats. Why should he be put under bonds.

AMUSEMENTS.

PANTOMIME AT THE TAMMANY.

A pantomime-burlesque entitled "Robinson Crusoe," and wrought out of tolerably old material, was enacted for the first time at the Tammany last evening. It was close upon midnight when its performance, which will be witnessed with greater pleasure when repeated rehearsals shall have smoothened it, terminated. The delays which lessened the agreeable character of the entertainment yesterday also interfered with a proper critical appreciation of its merits. With the exception of one or two sets the scenery did not appear to be suitable either for artistic finish or for effect, but there is a great deal of action in the piece, and so soon as that shall progress with rapidity the admirers of pantomime will not be exacting on any other score. The plot of the work, if we may give the name of plot to the incoherent succession of incidents that occur first in London, then on a desert island, and lastly wherever the spectator may choose to locate the scene, can be inferred from its title. And a detailed reference to the miscellany of songs, dances and acrobatic feats, would be no more interesting than a recapitulation of the story. We have only to add that the singing in "Robinson Crusoe" is done by Misses ALICE HARRISON, BESSIE SUDLOW, JOSIE ZANFRETTA, the dancing by Mlle. CARLE and the child ZANFRETTA, and the gymnastic acts by the RIZARELI Brothers. Messrs. MAFFIT and BARTHOLOMEW are the pantomimists. All these artistes will appear in the novelty until further notice.

The Avery Collection at the Somerville Art Gallery.

There is now on exhibition at this gallery a very fine collection of oil paintings, water colors and drawings, the property of Mr. SAMUEL P. AVERY. They will be sold at public auction, the oil paintings this evening and the water colors and drawings to-morrow evening, without reserve. The paintings in oil are the productions of about fifty distinguished American and European artists. They were in nearly every case either painted expressly to Mr. AVERY's order, or purchased directly by him from the artists. Among the American artists are the names of KENSETT, DURAND, J. M. HART, EASTMAN JOHNSON, CASILEAR, &c. The foreign schools are represented mainly by works commissioned by Mr. AVERY while Art Agent at the Paris Exposition. These are by BOUGUEREAU, TOULMOUCHE, BAUGNIET and JALABERT. The beautiful statue in marble, "Listening to the Winds," by the Milan sculptor MARTINOLI, is also in this collection.

The Billiard Tournament.

The series of contests for the billiard championship was inaugurated last night at Irving Hall, the contestants being HENRY RHINES, of Chicago, and MELVIN FOSTER, of this City. At a meeting of the contestants, held yesterday morning, it was resolved to make the tournament games 1,200 points each, a single carom to count three, and a carom on all the balls six. The game between RHINES and FOSTER was begun at 8:20 precisely, RHINES winning the lead-off, and FOSTER counting from it, his run amounting to 33. Two innings afterward, by a succession of admirable plays around the table, long shots being conspicuous, he ran 57, making his total 93, to his opponent's 5. During the next nineteen innings he played most wretchedly, making no better score than 39. Meantime, the Chicago player, whom no one had thought an opponent worthy the cue of so renowned an expert as FOSTER, had been counting steadily, without parade of any kind, and gradually going to the fore. The twentieth inning saw him 387 to FOSTER's 211, or 167 ahead. At the twenty-sixth inning he was 444 to FOSTER's 245. Here the latter reduced the gap a little by a run of 81, which RHINES more than offset shortly after by runs of 69 and 148, masse shots being the more prominent features of his play. The respective positions were now: RHINES, 706; FOSTER, 368 only. The chances of the latter's winning were the reverse of being improved, when, in the thirty-sixth inning, RHINES made a beautiful run of 150, closed by his ball tumbling into a pocket off a well-played counting stroke. Game now—RHINES, 960; FOSTER, 386. The player who had been booked certain victor had apparently no chance to win, the odds being almost unparalleled in billiards. FOSTER himself had almost abandoned hope, when a fortunate diversion of his ball, caused by its striking a pocket-jaw, gave him a count, off of which he piled up 159, advancing him to 548, as against 972. No material change occurred until the 43d inning, when the undaunted FOSTER again got among the triple figures, this time to the extent of 156. This advanced him to 725, his opponent being 995. Four innings after this, having recovered confidence, he ran 105; and in the fifty-second inning, encouraged by hearty applause, he regained the lead he had lost so early in the night, the tallies being respectively 1,034 and 1,028. At 12 o'clock, or three hours and twenty minutes after the contest began, FOSTER was declared winner by the appended score:

FOSTER—33, 3, 57, 6, 3, 3, 12, 39, 3, 0, 3, 3, 3, 9, 1, 9, 21, 0, 0, 3, 12, 1, 0, 0, 6, 15, 0, 81, 3, 6, 30, 3, 0, 0, 6, 6, 6, 3, 159, 9, 0, 3, 9, 156, 24, 3, 42, 105, 0, 15, 21, 0, 75, 24, 6, 18, 12, 1, 0, 27, 0, 1, 36, 1, 1, 0, 15, 0, 9, 0, 40. Total, 1,200; average, 17¼.

RHINES—3, 1, 1, 87, 54, 6, 0, 6, 3, 9, 9, 0, 96, 5, 0, 76, 21, 0, 6, 9, 30, 15, 3, 0, 0, 3, 6, 9, 69, 0, 15, 6, 15, 148, 1, 3, 150, 6, 6, 9, 21, 0, 3, 36, 0, 3, 0, 0, 9, 3, 48, 3, 18, 3, 3, 3, 1, 1, 3, 3, 0, 15, 3, 3, 9, 3, 12, 11, 3, 12. Total, 1,111. Average, 16½.

Safety Plays—Foster, 18 times; Rhines, 15 times.

Pockets off Count—Foster, 3 times; Rhines, 3 times.

Baulks—Foster, 12 times; Rhines, 7 times.

Kissed out of Count—Foster, 2 times; Rhines, 1 time.

Referee—Philip Tieman, of Cincinnati.

Time of Game—3:20.

DEERY and SNYDER play this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and GOLDTHWAIT in the evening. The management announce that holders of season tickets will be entitled to bring ladies with them. Last night, in the private boxes and galleries, there was a very creditable representation of the fair sex.

HOMICIDES.

The McCormick and Nicholson Case—Action of Coroner Schirmer.

An inquest was held yesterday, by Coroner SCHIRMER, at the office of the Board, in the City Hall, in the case of PATRICK MCCORMICK, who died from wounds in the abdomen, inflicted by WM. NICHOLSON on the 22d inst., at No. 82 Mulberry-street, while a quarrel was in progress over a game of cards.

The first witness called was Patrick McGowan, who testified that he is a cooper, and resides at No. 76 Mulberry-street; on Wednesday night he was standing in front of the saloon No. 82 Mulberry-street in company with the deceased, Patrick McCormick, and the two Nicholsons; some one proposed a game of cards in Cullen's saloon; they all went in, and a dispute arose whether the game should be "euchre" or "bluff;" Patrick Nicholson and the deceased began a game of "euchre," and the prisoner, Wm. Nicholson, was asked to join in a game of "bluff;" the game was again changed, the object being to secure the payment of the bar bills by the worst hand; the prisoner was the loser in two [illegible], and as he lost all of his money also, he dropped out of the game, [illegible] from the saloon proprietor; the card-playing went on for some time, [illegible] the deceased [illegible] hand; Wm. Nicholson commenced betting on his brother's hand, but as he failed to place his money on the table, the deceased took the money; [illegible] "bluff" occurred between the prisoner and the deceased; a dispute ensued, when deceased dropped the cards and said he would play no more, [illegible] that he considered it a curious game; [illegible] accused the deceased of playing a sucker game; the latter called him a liar; they exchanged blows, and the witness told them not to fight about the cards; the prisoner threw a bottle at the deceased, and they came to blows again; deceased said he would fight any one if he could get fair play; the prisoner and deceased then clinched, when McCormick exclaimed "I'm stabbed."

Patrick Nicholson and Patrick Cullen were also examined, and gave similar testimony.

Officer [illegible] McGrath, of the Sixth Precinct, testified [illegible] the deceased and McGowan in the middle of the sidewalk; the deceased said he had been stabbed by Wm. Nicholson, whom he pointed out; when the prisoner was arrested he said he had stabbed McCormick because he "would not let such a big fellow like him get away with him," adding that he weighed 170 pounds. When the prisoner was searched a knife was found in one of his pockets, which he confessed was the weapon he had used. The physician's testimony relative to the post mortem examination was then taken, and the case submitted to the jury, who rendered the following verdict:

"That the deceased came to his death by traumatic peritonitis, from stab wounds in the abdomen, inflicted with a knife in the hands of William Nicholson, April 22, 1869."

The prisoner was accordingly held for trial. He is 19 years of age, a printer by trade, and resides at No. 49 East Broadway. He claimed to have stabbed the deceased in self-defence.

The Fourth Ward Case—The Prisoner Butts Held for Trial.

Coroner FLYNN held an inquest yesterday, at the Oak-street Police Station, in the case of THOMAS HUGHES, the sailor who was shot dead by a German named EMIL BUTTS, on Saturday, as already reported. The following is an abstract of the evidence elicited:

Mary Hill testified that she resides at No. 15 New-Chambers-street, where she cohabited with Butts, the prisoner, for over a year past; the deceased also lived in the house with a girl named Cornelia Hughes; on Friday Hughes accused Butts of having told lies about him, which the latter denied; Hughes threatened to "take it out of him;" as the quarrel occurred in the room occupied by Butts he ordered Hughes to leave, which he did; the same evening Hughes came into the saloon and insulted the witness, and struck her with a chair; he then walked over to Butts and spat in his face, and was about to beat him when the proprietor interfered; the next day (Saturday) at two o'clock, Hughes came to the room door and knocked, and called Butts out, saying he would kill him; Butts refused to go out, when Hughes seized him and tried to throw him out of the window; witness interfered and prevented his doing so; Butts ordered Hughes to leave the room, as he did not desire to quarrel with him; when Hughes reached the landing, he said "you Dutch ——, I will cut you up, and then I will leave;" Butts and Hughes then went down stairs to the bar-room; Mrs. Hughes then called her husband up stairs; Hughes soon returned with a red shirt on, and renewed the quarrel with Butts, who endeavored to escape from it; as Butts stood at the door Hughes told him to leave, or he would put something through him; Butts then went into the street, followed by Hughes, who tried to seize him, when the prisoner exclaimed, "Go away, for God's sake;" despite this caution Hughes again advanced, when Butts fired the pistol at Hughes; the deceased then ran up stairs and down again, when he fell, saying, "I am gone; send for a doctor." Hughes had the reputation of being a quarrelsome man. He was partially intoxicated at the time. Butts bought the pistol outside that day.

Gustave Pfleher, landlord of the premises No. 15 New Chambers-street, testified—I keep furnished rooms for women at that place; Mr. and Mrs. Butts have lived in my house eight months, and Mr. and Mrs. Hughes only a few weeks; on Friday night Hughes quarreled with his wife and then struck Mrs. Butts, saying that she was the cause of the intoxication of Mrs. Hughes; he apologized for the blow and wanted to fight Butts as a set off, when the latter declined as he could not compete with Hughes; after some words Butts left the house, and did not return until the next day; both the women are of abandoned character; when Butts did come back he told the witness that he was afraid of Hughes, who, he thought, would have no hesitation in killing him; after Hughes and Butts had the quarrel up stairs, Butts came to me and said that he wanted me to put a stop to these practices, as he did not wish such disturbances; Hughes came in soon after and renewed the quarrel, Hughes saying, "I will put a hole through you before long;" when the men left the bar-room I heard the report of a pistol, and, on running out, found Hughes bleeding; he showed me the shot-holes in his breast, and soon after fell insensible; when Butts purchased the pistol he said he had got it because he was afraid of Hughes trying to kill him.

John Fay, of No. 62 Madison-street, testified: I was passing down New Chambers-street about four o'clock on Saturday, when I heard the report of a pistol; I returned to the spot, and saw the deceased; I know not who shot him; I recognize the prisoner as the man who was pointed out as the one who had fired the pistol.

Cornelia Hughes testified: I am the wife of the deceased; on Friday he came home and quarreled with me about some stories that he had heard about me; the next day he came home half drunk, and said that Butts had been telling more lies about him; he wanted to fight Butts, when I stopped him. Witness further corroborated the evidence of those preceding her.

The jury rendered a verdict against the prisoner, and the Coroner committed him to await the action of the Grand Jury. He claimed to have acted in self-defence. BUTTS seemed to be in a state of great mental excitement during the examination.

Fatal Assault with a Butcher's Cleaver—Arrest of the Assailant.

On the 9th inst. ALBERT SIMMONS, a Frenchman, aged 29, and residing at No. 303 East Twenty-sixth-street, was assaulted by HENRY WALDEYER, who cut SIMMONS on the arm with a cleaver. He lingered until yesterday, when death ensued. It appears that the deceased was a carver and butcher in the saloon of JOHN RYAN, at No. 104 Vesey-street, and WALDEYER attends a pork stall in Washington Market. The latter entered the saloon to have his knife sharpened on a grindstone. As he left the place SIMMONS remarked to him, "You ought to trust us on account of using the grindstone, when WALDEYER struck at him with the knife, and cut him severely on the left fore arm. He was arrested and Coroner FLYNN held an ante-mortem examination in the case as the injured man was in a critical condition. As the attending physicians expressed the belief that SIMMONS would recover, the Coroner released the prisoner on bail. When the death of the deceased was reported at the Coroner's office, a warrant was issued for WALDEYER's arrest, and the same was duly executed by Officer HALEY, attached to the Coroner's office, the accused being found in Brooklyn. He was sent to the Tombs and an inquest will be held to-day.

Another Suicide.

DEBORAH ROBERTS, residing at No. 417 Ninth-avenue, becoming weary of life at 50 years of age, yesterday afternoon chose the most terrible means of ending it by taking Paris green. The fact that she swallowed the poison was quickly discovered, but the circumstance was of no aid in saving her life, as the physician who was instantly summoned declared her to be dead immediately upon his arrival. The Coroner's office was notified, and an inquest will be held this morning by Coroner KEENAN.

Union League Club—Farewell Address to President Jay.

In response to a call for a special meeting of the Club a very full attendance of the members assembled in the theatre last evening to unite in presenting a farewell address to JOHN JAY, Esq., the President of the Club, on the occasion of his anticipated departure as Minister to the Court of Vienna.

CHARLES BUTLER, Esq., occupied the chair, and Mr. WILLIAM COLLINS acted as Secretary, while on the platform were the members of the Committee, SAMUEL B. RUGGLES, MARSHALL O. ROBERTS, Hon. HENRY E. DAVIES and Colonel THOMAS VAN BUREN, Consul-General to Florence, together with Mr. JAY and Dr. THOMPSON.

The President, on calling the meeting to order, said they were convened on the occasion of the departure of their late President on his mission as the representative of the nation at a foreign Court, to give expression to their sentiments of affection, respect and esteem for him, not only as their fellow-citizen and associate, but also as their honored President, whose courtesy has adorned and executive ability enhanced the efficiency of the Club, alike throughout its years of peril and its subsequent prosperity and usefulness. He then introduced Rev. Dr. THOMPSON as another honored member, who had been selected as the mouthpiece of the Club on this occasion.

Dr. THOMPSON then delivered a long address highly eulogistic of Mr. JAY's position throughout the struggle against slavery, his active loyalty during the rebellion, and his dignified and efficient services as President of the Club since its formation, and concluded by expressing the high esteem in which the retiring President was held by the members of the Club, and their sincere regret for his departure and the severance of those ties between him and them, which must prove a loss to the Club and the Club alone.

Mr. JAY responded in a dignified and earnest address, in which he expressed his deep sense of the honor paid him by his associates of the Club; reviewed at great length the loyal and high national purpose for which the Club was formed, and after charging its members to exercise unfaltering diligence, to purify the administration of Government, both national and local, concluded as follows: "Thanking you once more for your long and faithful friendship, for the many marks of confidence and esteem with which you have honored me, and especially for this parting tribute of your regard, which I appreciate better than I can express, I bid you, gentlemen, one and all, a cordial and affectionate farewell."

At the conclusion of Mr. JAY's response, resolutions were passed authorizing the publication, at the expense of the Club, of the address of the Club and the response of Mr. JAY; and also that the proceedings be entered at large on the minutes of the Club, and an authenticated copy presented to Mr. JAY. The meeting then adjourned, and the members in large numbers crowded around Mr. JAY to pay him their farewell respects.

THE TURF.

Trotting on the Fashion Course, L. I.

Two trots came off yesterday on the Fashion Course, L. I., and attracted a large attendance of the regular habitues of the track. The first was a Sweepstakes trot of $750, mile heats, to wagon, for which three horses were entered, but one was withdrawn. The starters were W. LOVELL's b. m. Lady Lovell, and R. OGLE's b. g. Red Rover. The latter was the favorite at $100 to $50 before the start, and he won with ease in three straight heats.

The second race was a match for $500, mile heats, three in five, to wagons, owners to drive, between R. OGLE's s. g. Pet and W. LOVELL's b. g. Jim. Two to one was laid on the sorrel horse, and he won in four heats, the second being a dead heat. We give the

There was another entry made for this stake by Messrs. FELTER & DAVIDSON, but it was declared ineligible and ruled out.

Insect Powder.

HOW TO TELL THE GENUINE ARTICLE.—Prof. E. LYON while traveling in Asia, discovered a flower, which, when powdered, is sure death to every kind of Insect, from a Cockroach to a Fly. He protected his discovery by letters-patent, Government medals, &c., put his signature upon every flask of the article, and named it LYON'S MAGNETIC INSECT POWDER. He imparted his secret to no one but his successor.

Purchasers of Insect Powder—and it is used in almost every house—must see to it that they are not deceived by worthless imitations and counterfeits. The signature of E. Lyon is the purchaser's guarantee. Look sharp for it, and buy no Insect Powder that does not bear it. It may be had of Druggists and Family Stores, at 25 cents per flask.

An Absolute Safeguard.

Invalids, broken down in health and spirits by Chronic Dyspepsia, or suffering from the terrible exhaustion which follows the attacks of acute disease, the testimony of thousands who have been raised, as by a miracle, from a similar state of prostration by HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, is a sure guarantee that by the same means you, too, may be strengthened and restored. But to those who stand in peril of epidemics, to all who, by reason of exposure, privations and uncongenial climate or unhealthy pursuits, may at any moment be stricken down, this paragraph is most particularly and emphatically addressed. You, who are thus situated, are proffered an absolute safeguard against the danger that menaces you. Tone and regulate the system with this harmless medicinal stimulant and alterative, and you will be forearmed against the maladies whose seeds float around you in the air unseen. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are not only a standard tonic and alterative throughout the United States, but they are accredited by the certificates of the most distinguished citizens of the Union, to the people of all other lands. In Canada, Australia and the West Indies they are gradually taking the place of all other stomachics, whether native or foreign, and as surely as truth is progressive, and demonstration overthrows doubt, they will eventually supersede every other invigorant and restorative now employed in medicinal practice.—Advertisement.

NEW-YORK SEMI-WEEKLY TIMES.

The NEW-YORK SEMI-WEEKLY TIMES, published THIS MORNING, contains the very latest telegraphic and general news; editorials on matters of current interest; a page of carefully-prepared commercial matter, giving the latest financial news and market reports; items of agricultural and domestic interest, specially prepared for the TIMES by a practical agriculturist; and marriages and deaths of the week and other interesting reading matter.

The Meriden Britannia Company,
NO. 199 BROADWAY,
invite attention to a valuable patented improvement in SILVER-PLATED SPOONS AND FORKS,
by which those parts most subject to wear receive an extra coat of silver three times the usual thickness, viz.: on the back of the handle, heel of the bowl, and points of forks, spoons, &c.
This process adds three times to the durability of goods so plated, at an additional expense of only 20 per cent. above our Standard Plate. All spoons and forks stamped "1847, Rogers Bros. XII." and with our trade mark, are plated as above.
We also call attention to the new patent
PORCELAIN-LINED ICE PITCHER,
which is warranted more durable than any heretofore offered, and is pronounced by Dr. S. Dana Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, and other eminent medical authorities, to be "perfectly free from anything poisonous or injurious, and to preserve water pure," which is not the case with ice pitchers not porcelain-lined.
We are also introducing a valuable novelty for a BAKING DISH, which is porcelain-lined and fire-proof, with an elegant silver-plated receiver, to be used when ready for the table, which will retain the heat at least twice as long as ordinary dishes.
Our facilities for producing fine plated ware are unsurpassed. Having the largest manufactories of their kind in the world, and employing the most experienced workmen to be found either in this country or Europe, we are enabled to offer the most complete assortment of
of every description, to be found in this country.
The above goods are for sale by the principal dealers in Silver-Plated Ware, and to the trade only, by the
MERIDEN BRITANNIA COMPANY,

S. P. AVERY'S COLLECTION.
SPECIAL NOTICE.
R. SOMERVILLE would respectfully call attention to this valuable and interesting sale of American and foreign WORKS OF ART, and to the fact that as usual with Mr. Avery's auction sales, it will be WITHOUT RESERVE. At his sale of last Spring many persons did not attend, thinking the works would sell for large prices or be limited; real bargains were lost in consequence, and the same gentlemen paid heavy advances to dealers who had bought. It is to be hoped that this fact will be remembered, and that in all unreserved sales, although the aggregate result may prevent loss, yet there are always excellent things sold at half their value.
The oil-paintings and the statue will be sold on TUESDAY EVENING, 27th, and the water-color drawings on the 28th.

NUMBER SIX
OF APPLETONS' JOURNAL CONTAINS A STEEL ENGRAVING
OF
EXQUISITE BEAUTY,
ENTITLED
THE RIVER ROAD,
from a painting by
A. F. BELLOWS,
Forming one of a series of Choice Engravings, suited for the Portfolio or the Frame. This engraving is pronounced a gem, and will be followed by others from paintings by Church, Casilear, Durand, James Hart, Haseltine, Suydam, Fenn, and others.
NOVELTY, VARIETY, AND FRESHNESS, ARE THE
CONSTANT AIM OF THE JOURNAL.
From the hundreds of commendatory notices of the JOURNAL we select the following:
From the Commercial Bulletin, Boston.
APPLETONS' JOURNAL is one of the most elegant as well as one of the cheapest weekly publications we ever saw. How the publishers can manage to furnish such a beautifully-printed and handsomely-illustrated publication for ten cents is a mystery known to themselves.
From the New-York Herald.
Number four of this new paper sustains well, as all its predecessors have done, the promise of number one—that it would be the handsomest, and, in general character, the best weekly yet published in the country.
From the New-York Times.
Such business enterprise forecasts success; for people will always give money where they have their money's worth.
From the Boston Evening Transcript.
It combines some of the features of the magazine with those of a literary and critical and illustrated popular periodical.
From the Philadelphia North American.
The JOURNAL is exceedingly attractive in every feature, and will bear a scrutiny of the most critical.
The JOURNAL contains 32 pages,
Embracing
FICTION, TRAVEL, ADVENTURE, and interesting articles upon
POPULAR SUBJECTS of GENERAL INTEREST.

TOMMY TRY, AND WHAT HE DID IN SCIENCE. By CHARLES OTLEY GROOM NAPIER, F. G. S., author of "Food, Use and Beauty of British Birds," &c. With forty-six illustrations. 1 vol. 16mo, cloth. $1 75.
"'Tommy Try' is a book of popular science, having reference chiefly to botany and the habits of animals, and interspersed with a good deal of light story-telling and fun, with a view, we suppose, to rendering the science more attractive to youthful readers. The work reminds us somewhat of the 'Philosophy in Sport made Science in Earnest' of the late Dr. Paris, which many years ago was so great a favorite with the boys who are now middle-aged men."—London Review.

VOL. I. OF
THE MAN WHO LAUGHS,
IN FRENCH AND ENGLISH.
Price, in either language, with steel-plate portrait of the Author, fifty cents.
No work of recent times has excited more curiosity and expectation than this long-looked-for novel. It is Victor Hugo's first attempt at the delineation of English character and life, and has been for many years his favorite task. It exhibits all the dramatic force, that insight into character, those humanitarian aspirations, that wonderful power of descriptive language, and that command over all the picturesque and dramatic elements in man and nature, which rendered Les Miserables the surprise and delight of every civilized people.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

A very fair number of persons attended the Salesroom yesterday, and the prices obtained were quite satisfactory. Mr. JAS. M. MILLER disposed of 144 plots of land located at Elizabeth, N. J., and Messrs. MULLER, WILKINS & Co. sold a fine country seat located at Fordham, Westchester, N. Y.

The sales for to-day are as follows:

Messrs. MULLER, WILKINS & Co. will sell at the Getty House, Yonkers, N. Y., 130 acres of land, two and a half miles north of the depot, lying on both sides of the New-York and Albany post road, and extending to the Hudson River, known as the property of the late WM. BOLMER, deceased.

Messrs. WYCKOFF & LITTLE will sell a brownstone house and lot on the west side of Clinton-avenue, Brooklyn, 141 feet south of Fulton-avenue; also a fine country residence at Haledon, N. J., 1¾ miles from the Paterson depot.

Mr. JAMES M. MILLER will sell the following property: No. 59 Chambers-street, corner of Oak-street, 3-story brick house; No. 189 Elm-street, 2-story brick house; No. 6 Marion-street, 2-story brick house; No. 107 Park-street, 3-story brick house; No. 19 Mott-street, 2-story brick-front house; No. 21 Mott-street, 2-story frame house.

Messrs. JOHNSON & MILLER will sell, at the City Salesroom, Brooklyn, 538 desirable lots, located in the Eighteenth Ward, Brooklyn; also the farm-house and barn thereon, belonging to the estate of GEORGE WHITE, deceased.

Among the pieces of property offered at private sale, those offered by Mr. S. J. AHERN are particularly deserving of notice, located at Elizabeth, N. J., of convenient access to this city, and a good location. He has erected some eight new dwellings, which are nicely arranged and are sufficiently commodious for any moderate-sized family. They face the east, and have a fine view of the bay, the long bridge, and the scenery beyond. They are furnished with gas and water, and have many other conveniences. Full information concerning them may be had at Mr. AHERN'S office, No. 88 Wall-street.

SUBURBAN PROPERTY.

FORTY MINUTES FROM YOUR OFFICE, IN WALL-ST., TO YOUR HOME IN ELIZABETH, N. J.

A few of the property-owners of Elizabeth beg to call attention to this, the most accessible suburb in any direction from New-York. Forty minutes from Wall-st. will land you in Elizabeth by first-class, commodious boats and pleasant, well-ventilated cars, and through a delightful section of country, in full view of the Bay of New-York, Staten Island and Newark Bay. This is one of the most picturesque routes from the City, and getting home, a weary journey by many of the routes, is, by the Central Railroad of New-Jersey, a daily pleasure trip. Or, you may travel by the New-Jersey Railroad through Newark. Commuters by this road can take the Company's boats either at Cortlandt-st. or Desbrosses-st., the latter route being a great convenience to those engaged in business near or above Canal-st.

Cars run almost incessantly on the two roads, and as they intersect at the main station at Elizabeth, a person may lose a train by one road and in a few seconds take a train by the other from the same platform.

Fare by either road, either way, 25 cents—commutation by either road $65 per year, or about 20 cents each day for the round trip. There are no Sunday trains to Elizabeth excepting the evening train to Washington, which halts there, so that none of the inconveniences of the places within Sunday morning access of the City is felt. Yet in Elizabeth if you want to visit New-York of a Sunday, a pleasant drive of an hour and a quarter will land you in the City. Thus Elizabeth is at once within easy reach and at safe distance.

Elizabeth property has not felt the influence of speculation. Lots are now for sale in Elizabeth at less than one-half the prices current for lots in Harlem, and for as many hundreds as lots would cost thousands in Brooklyn, and yet as a place of residence there is no comparison between those places and Elizabeth. Houses can be procured in Elizabeth at fair prices, and, too, with a certainty of enhancement of value. Attention is called particularly to the following property, offered directly by the owners:

QUALITY HILL:

This beautiful portion of Elizabeth, lying around the recently-opened "South Broad-street," is being rapidly improved in the most thorough manner. The system of improvement being carried out in this section is destined to supersede all others. The streets are being sewered, with connections to the curb every fifty feet, to obviate the necessity of disturbing the pavement when once laid. For the same reason, the gas and water pipes are located under the sidewalk, between the flagging and the fence, the space between flagging and curb being devoted to shade trees. The Nicolson pavement is to be used exclusively.

Although but a few months opened, a large number of the finest residences in the city are completed, completing, and under contract, on South Broad and connecting streets.

The land is the highest, the best drained, the easiest of sewerage, and commands the finest view to be found in the city.

It is within eight minutes' walk (in a direct line through the Broadway of Elizabeth) of the main depot. The prominent churches, schools, banks, Post Office, market, hotel, all the principal stores, and finest buildings in the city are between this section and the depot, and can be reached from it by a few minutes' walk, without crossing railroad tracks or deviating from a direct line.

Single lots only (from 50 to 100 feet front by 150 to 200 deep) are being sold at moderate prices to such parties only as will at once erect FIRST-CLASS RESIDENCES, in keeping with the general character of improvements in this, the "Fifth-avenue" of the city. No lots will be sold for speculation on any terms. The main streets in this section all intersect Bay-av., an avenue 80 feet wide, now being extended to Staten Island Sound, and which, within a year or two will, doubtless, be the favorite drive of the residents of Elizabeth.

Mr. DE CASS offers some fine houses on Quality Hill.

By JOHN CLAY:

Two fine houses on Jefferson-av., near North Park and North Station of the New-Jersey Railroad. Mr. Clay is an experienced New-York builder, and his houses have the modern improvements.

By O. B. AMORY:

Some fine property on North Broad-st.

By AMOS CLARK, Jr.:

Some fine houses on Newark-av., and property on Broad-st. Arcade Building, Broad-st., near the station, offers fine stores and offices. The Post Office is in this building, and it is by far the most central location in the city.

By ERNEST L. MEYER, City Surveyor:

A farm of 46 acres, house and outbuildings, 1½ miles from railroad depots; $25,000, on easy terms. Lot, 100x148 feet, on corner of Jefferson-av. and Mary-st., opposite Jefferson Park. Lot, 150x150 feet, on Madison-av., near Jefferson Park. Lot, 130x150, corner of Madison-av. and Anna-st., opposite Jefferson Park. Lots, 200x130, corner of Madison-av. and Anna-st., opposite Jefferson Park. Lots between Adams-av., Jackson-av. and Port-av., at $15 per foot.

By S. J. AHERN:

A first-class French-roof house, with hot and cold water, expensive mantels, large and pleasant parlors, bay-window facing the south; situated within 150 feet of Jefferson Park, on Madison-avenue, a most sightly and elegant place, and sure to advance fifty per cent. Price, $10,000; terms very easy.

ALSO,

Small snug houses on Bay View-terrace, three minutes from Jefferson Park, eight minutes from the main station, and three minutes from Spring-st. station. These houses were built with special reference to the requirements of genteel City families; they have portico in front; wide hall, with gas; parlor 14.6x15 feet, with gas and marble mantel; dining-room same size as parlor, with large closet; kitchen 14 feet square, with gas and water; large storeroom off the kitchen; four good chambers and room in attic.

For clerks and others living on stated and moderate incomes these houses are peculiarly adapted. Plans and elevations can be seen at Mr. AHERN'S office, No. 88 Wall-st., Room No. 14.

Prices of houses $4,500 to $6,000.

Mr. Ahern makes a liberal offer to clerks. Mortgages in the country are made at one year. Persons of moderate means may not be able to save money to meet a mortgage on such short time, and therefore Mr. Ahern will entertain propositions to make a payment down, and after that yearly payments until the property is paid for. Here is an incentive for young men to economize. Seven of these houses will be ready for occupancy on the 25th of April. Employers would be benefited by presenting their young men with a yearly commutation ticket on a road to Elizabeth. The young men would get to their work at an earlier hour from their quiet country homes than from a city residence, and, too, they would be worth more—they would be clearer of head, as being free from the temptations of city life. Mr. Ahern offers some finely situated Park lots at prices that insure doubling the investment. Property unincumbered; title perfect.

Call and see the plans of his houses, or cut out the address of S. J. AHERN, No. 88 Wall-st., and send for his circular.

ADRIAN H. MULLER, Auctioneer.

PEREMPTORY SALE OF VALUABLE COUNTRY SEATS ON THE HUDSON RIVER, AT YONKERS, by order of the Supreme Court, in partition, estate of William Bolmer, deceased.

ADRIAN H. MULLER, P. R. WILKINS & CO. will sell at auction on TUESDAY, April 27, at 10 o'clock A. M., at the Getty House, Yonkers, by order of the Supreme Court, under the direction of John P. Jenkins, Referee:

130 acres of land at Yonkers, Westchester County, 2½ miles north of the depot, lying on both sides of the New-York and Albany Post road, and extending to the Hudson River, known as the property of the late Wm. Bolmer. This is almost the last piece of unimproved property of the kind on the Hudson River, between New-York and Tarrytown; it is most beautifully located, commanding magnificent views of the Hudson River for nearly 50 miles, and has a number of elegant building sites. On the premises are a large and substantial dwelling-house, barns, stables and other outbuildings. It will be sold in plots.

Terms of sale very liberal.

EDWARD WELLS, Plaintiff's Attorney.

Maps can be obtained at the auctioneers' office, No. 7 Pine-st., or will be sent by mail if desired.

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

ADRIAN H. MULLER, Auctioneer.

AUCTION SALE OF 40 VILLA PLOTS AND TWO COTTAGE HOUSES, SITUATED AT RYE POINT, MILTON, WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

ADRIAN H. MULLER, P. R. WILKINS & CO. will sell at auction on WEDNESDAY, April 28, at 12 o'clock, at the Exchange Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, the valuable property known as Rye, or Wainwright's Point, situated at Milton, Westchester County, N. Y.

This property is on the line of the New-York and New-Haven Railroad, one hour and five minutes from New-York, which time will be considerably shortened as soon as the Harlem and Portchester Road is completed, the surveys for which are finished and the capital subscribed, and the depot of which will be within a quarter of a mile of this property. There is no property in the lower section of Westchester County more eligibly located, or that can offer so many natural advantages for first-class suburban residences. Bounded on one side by Milton Harbor and on the other by Long Island Sound, with fine drainage, it must, of necessity, be an extremely healthy position; and its facilities for bathing, boating and fishing are unequaled, it having a water-front of over one mile. It is also within one-quarter of a mile of Rye Beach, so justly celebrated for its great advantages for bathing. The new Boulevard, on the line of the Old Boston road, runs within half a mile of the property, making an easy and beautiful drive for those wishing to reach New-York by private conveyance. The present owner has expended over $30,000 in building roads, planting trees and beautifying the property. The extreme point of this property, containing some seventeen acres, is covered with a large and luxurious growth of oak, and is most admirably adapted for a hotel. On this extreme point a new dock has been built at a cost exceeding $5,000, and which is the best steamboat dock in the township. There is on the property two new and substantially-built cottages, having most of the conveniences of City houses, stable, gardener's cottage, hennery, &c. These houses are ready for immediate occupancy. A number of photographic views, taken from different points on the estate, may be seen at the office of the auctioneers, and which will give, in a small degree, some idea of the natural beauties of the property.

To those wishing to purchase suburban property, either for investment or improvement, this sale will offer most unusual inducements.

Maps and guide maps at the office of the auctioneers No. 7 Pine-st.

AUCTION.—A VALUABLE FARM AND country seat to be sold at the Court-house, Poughkeepsie, on TUESDAY, April 27, at 1 o'clock P. M. Said farm contains ninety acres, situated on the east bank of the Hudson River, two minutes' walk from railway station, at Carthage Landing, or better known as Low Point—said farm to be sold to close the estate of Gilbert Budd. The land lies high, and sloping to the river, with many beautiful sites for building, with large orchards of apples and other fruit, and two-story dwelling-house, 40x50 feet, overlooking the Hudson River for fifteen or twenty miles north and south. Said farm has all necessary out-buildings. One-half purchase money can remain on bond and mortgage. For further particulars inquire of WILLIAM A. BUDD, Nos. 80 and 82 White-st., New-York City, or of the Auctioneer, HENRY W. MORRIS, Poughkeepsie, or of WILLIAM J. BULLIS, on the premises.

THE LONG ISLAND RAILROAD DISASTER.

Proceedings Before the Coroner's Jury—Testimony of the Superintendent of the Road and the Engineer of the Train.

The Coroner's jury summoned to investigate into the causes of the death of seven persons in the accident on the Long Island Railroad met yesterday, at 1 o'clock, in the large hall of Remsen's Hotel, Jamaica. There was little or no excitement in the streets of the town, and but little seeming interest on the part of the villagers. In knots in the bar-room the sad calamity was discussed, but in quiet tones, and nothing appeared to mark that anything out of the daily routine was taking place.

There was not a very large attendance in the hall—not so large as was anticipated. The District-Attorney of Queens County, BENJAMIN W. DOWNING, Esq., assisted by JAMES W. COOK, Esq., Assistant District-Attorney, appeared on behalf of the people. The railroad company was represented by OLIVER CHARLICK, Esq., the President, and Mr. BARTON, the Superintendent. They were interested deeply in the proceedings, and on their part at least there seemed to be an entire willingness to place before the jury all the facts they desired as to the condition of the road. The jurors seemed to be men of more than the average intelligence, and were selected with care and evident impartiality. At 1 o'clock the Coroner, ABRAHAM B. HENDRICKSON, Esq., proceeded to call the roll of jurors, which was responded to by the following named persons:

John O'Donnell, George Coddwise, Heward Pearsall, Alexander Hayner, Edward H. Sykes, Martin Vandegraw, Abram A. Hendrickson, Charles Lowrey, Daniel Murray, Daniel Baylis, Wright P. Higbee, William K. Smart.

The Coroner then announced that he was ready to proceed with the inquest.

TESTIMONY OF DR. WM. D. WOOD.

Dr. Wood, being sworn, testified as follows: I am a practicing physician residing in Jamaica; have lived there for fifteen years; am aware of the occurrence of the accident on the Long Island Railroad; it took place on Friday last on the Northport train; I do not know the hour of the occurrence; I was requested to call at Remsen's Hotel, in Jamaica, and care for some of the wounded; I found there Edwin Van Gasbeck; he was one of the injured; in the afternoon I made a post-mortem examination upon six bodies; no one knew the names then, and I afterward put the names to them; the first one was George H. Van Nostrand; the left leg was broken into fragments about midway, four wounds on the lower portion of the right leg and the back portion of his body, from the hip to the knee was mashed into a jelly; the next one was No. 2, Mrs. John W. Pray; both legs were fractured below the knee; protrusion of the bowels; both arms broken; the skull was broken and separated; no further injuries; No. 3 was William C. Rushmore; a greater portion of the bowels protruded; both arms broken; skull fractured on the left side, front; no further injuries; No. 4 was Orestes M. Pray; fracture of left leg just above the ankle; fracture of the left knee; protrusion of bowels, and spine forced out of position; fracture of the breast bone; two wounds over the left eye, and portions of flesh on the left hand scraped off; right elbow fractured; No. 5, Patrick Shenahan; compound fracture of the left thigh bone; greater part of the skull fractured and part of the scalp torn off; No. 6, Jenny Adams, a year and ten months old; fracture of the skull and several bruises on the body; death had been caused in each of the cases by injuries; have no knowledge how those injuries were received.

TESTIMONY OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

Isaac D. Barton, being sworn, testified as follows: I am the Superintendent of the Long Island Railroad; have been so eighteen months; Mr. John H. White was the conductor of the train that met with the accident, and George Weaver was the engineer; there were two brakemen upon the train, George Van Nostrand and William Bowers; there was a man named Craig on the train; Craig was riding on the train up to Huntington on business of the Company; an engine called the Thurlow Weed was attached to the train; it was not a new engine; she has been on the road three or four years; she is lighter than some other engines on the road; there are two other lighter engines, the Woodbury and the Northport; the Thurlow Weed is about the lightest engine on the through road, the other lighter engines on the branch road running to Hempstead and Flushing; I am acquainted with the cars on the road; I don't know how long they have run; I think they had been run eight or nine years when I came on the road; I know most of the repairs done to the cars in the shop; there were new trucks put under them, not new entire; most of it was new, the springs were new; the floor timbers were new; most of the floor was renewed; I am speaking particularly of the hind car; I cannot tell where the new floor was in bad condition at the time of repairing, whether it was front or back; put in new wheels; the body of the car was old, but not decayed; when the frost was in the ground, section men walked the track after every train; I have exclusive control of the running road; the road-master has charge of repairs; I give him orders to keep the road in good condition; I have supervision of the running of the road and of the repairs.

To a Juror—I am responsible to the President and directors of the road.

A Juror—Did you know the condition of the car when it came from the shop? A.—The master car repairer would know; Edward Olmstead is his name; I looked at the car when they came out of the shop; I have been employed on other roads.

To a Juror—This car was a shorter and lighter car than the others—probably a ton lighter than our lightest car; it was a shorter car than the general run of the cars.

To the Foreman—I could not state how much work in the way of repairing had been done on the road east of Willow Tree; there has been a great deal of new iron laid.

A Juror—Do you think that if a spike could be pulled out a "chair" in a rail that the rail would be safe? A.—I could not say; if the axletree had broken, the car would have probably "slewed;" there were no wheels or axles broken; I examined the track from a point beyond the accident; it looked as if the truck had slewed and went crosswise the track; I have known cases where the truck would run parallel on a broken rail. (Piece of a broken rail shown witness.) The "flang" is gone and about one-half the neck of the rail; I could not tell whether it was the east or the west end of the rail; I think it was the east end of the rail that broke. (Looking at the "chair.") I do not think that a safe chair; I have known trains to run over rails without chairs, and go safe; it is not, however, the custom of railroading to run without "chairs;" Claus Fredericks has charge of the road from Willow Tree to Hyde Park; he has about five miles of the track in his charge; it is his duty to put in ties and lay track; he has four or five men in his charge; he or one of his men should pass twice over the road every day to inspect it; I have found the road in very good order; last year a great deal of new iron was put in; this came from S. W. Hopkins & Co.; it is American iron, made in Pennsylvania; I laid a good many such rails—same heft and same brand of iron; when I arrived at the scene of the accident the car laid on its side, to get it off the track.

THEORY OF THE ACCIDENT.

My theory is that the forward truck left the track and then tore through the bottom of the car either cornerways or by rolling, and came in contact with the rear trucks, broke the centre-pin of the hind truck, and drove them from under the car; the body of the car was not hurt much; the seats and flooring were all torn out; the lightness of the car had nothing to do with the giving way; the flooring was not as heavy as other cars, because the body of the car was not so heavy; I think the tearing commenced very soon after the truck left the track.

Foreman—Could the left wheel run off the track and the right wheel remain on? A.—To do the damage that was done, no, Sir; when I reached the track I found that it had been torn up; I saw some sixty or seventy feet where the rail had been broken—the ties broken; I should think that there were four or five feet of the rail torn out; I cannot account for the breaking of the rail; it seems to be a good rail. (Pieces of broken rail shown witness.) It is not all here; I should think a piece of about six or eight inches was gone; I could not tell how that rail was broken; I don't think any man could tell whether it was broken from a downward or a side pressure; there are three breaks in it; it is a twenty-four-foot rail.

By the Foreman—That is the extreme end of the rail. The end looks like a new break. A.—It does not look like a new break.

A Juror—Do you think if it was a good rail it would have broken. A.—Iron is very treacherous stuff; an engine might have broken it by striking it; it is not improbable; I have not seen the piece of iron and "chair" before; that "chair" would not be a safe one if it was not well spiked; the split in the iron is an old break; some roads have chains on the trucks to keep them from slewing; the Hudson River may have them on some of the cars; we have not the chains on any of our cars; I was present at the disaster one hour and fifteen minutes after it occurred; I examined the remains of the car; the cause of the accident was the breaking of this rail.

District-Attorney—Might be the effect and not the cause? A.—I cannot say.

A Juror—Why don't the Long Island Road use the chains if they are safer? If the car should go off the track it might prevent the car from "slewing," and thus prevent its being torn to pieces; it might and it might not; the chains rattle and are noisy, and they wear the woodwork.

A Juror—Then I presume its a question of economy. I was sixteen years on the New-York and Harlem track; this road is superior to that track; it rides better; I have walked the whole length of the track; our road rides as good as the generality of roads; I commenced on the road as brakeman, then as freight-car conductor, then passenger-car conductor, then train master, then freight agent and then assistant superintendent; after the trucks had been swept from under the car the car was drawn upward of one hundred feet; the train could have been stopped sooner had the brakemen been at their posts; we generally have one brakeman to every two cars. The engine weighs about twenty-eight ton; the thirty-ton engine was on the freight train that passed over the road two hours before the accident; the road west of the place is in pretty good condition—not as good as it is from here to Hunter's Point; the road has all been relaid from here to Hunter's Point; Mr. J. S. Craig is the road-master, who takes his orders from me; he is here; the engineer is also here.

To a Juror—I recollect seeing a tie near the accident that was very much decayed; do not know whether it would have fallen apart or not; sometimes when we repair tracks we don't take out the old ones, but add new ones; ties will average along the road from fifteen inches to two feet; it depends on the width of the tie how near we lay them.

To a Juror—If there was a chain on the truck it would keep it straight if it had not broken; the object of the chains is to prevent the train from "slewing."

TESTIMONY OF THE BAGGAGE MASTER.

Leander Wood, being sworn, testified as follows: I have been in the employ of the Long Island Railroad ten years; I was brakeman three months of the time; have been a conductor; at the time of the accident I was baggage master; I was in the baggage car at the time of the accident; we had three cars on that day; I don't think we were running more than the usual rate of speed, twenty miles an hour; I felt a jolt, and on looking out of the door I saw a car off the track; the jolt was an unusual one; you could see that something was wrong; the jolt was up; I looked out a side door in the car; I was sitting on the south side of the car when the accident took place; don't know which side the jolt was on; after the train stopped I got out and went back to the hind car; saw it was off; I saw the brakeman Van Nostrand lying dead; then saw the conductor, and asked him if I should go to Jamaica and telegraph down, and he said "Yes;" the next man I saw was badly mangled, all doubled up in a heap; the next was a woman with her head stove in and badly mangled; I next saw a lady and then Mr. Craig; I then came down to Jamaica; I did not look on the inside of the car that was smashed; I supposed that it was a lighter car than the rest because it was shorter; I never noticed it much; I do not know how long the car has been used; the track from here to Hunter's Point is in very good condition—not quite as good from here on west; I have observed repairs going on; I have experienced light jolts on the road; we were running at the usual rate of speed, about twenty miles an hour; I don't know that it is the custom to make up for lost time between here and Mineola; there is usually a good gang of men at work on the road; the road is in as good condition as the majority of roads I have traveled on.

TESTIMONY OF THE ENGINEER.

George A. Weaver, being sworn, said: I have been employed by the Long Island Railroad two years and a half; the last six months I was an engineer; before that time I was a fireman; I was on the Great Western Railroad in England as a fireman; this was my first appointment as engineer in this country; I ran a custom engine in England; I was running the train as engineer at the time of the accident; we left Hunter's Point about four minutes late; I looked at my watch as soon as I received the conductor's signal to start, and saw we were four minutes late; we did not make up lost time at Woodside or at Winfield; we stopped at Jamaica; we were seven minutes late when we left at Jamaica; we should have left Jamaica at eleven; we had not made up any of the lost time when the accident took place; I cannot tell ordinarily the rate of speed we are running; I might approximate as to the rate by a little study; the usual practice, when behind time, is to select smooth spots and new iron and make it up; the condition of the road west of Willow Tree is as good as any; after leaving Willow Tree the road is level, with a downward grade; I was behind time; I would select that point, as well as others, to make up time; I think the rate of speed that day was from eighteen to twenty miles an hour; as an average thing, we run from twenty-five to thirty miles an hour; I have been on a train on the Long Island Railroad when we were running at the rate of thirty miles an hour; I was increasing the rate of speed at the time the accident occurred; I was six minutes running from here to the place of the accident; the jerk of the cars first attracted my attention, then I shut off steam and reversed the engine, jumped off and ran back to see what was the matter; she stopped instantly when I shut off and reversed the lever; the usual warning is the ringing of the bell; the jerk caused the bell to ring; I have never passed an examination as an engineer; I have been fireman for some time; I receive $65 per month; engineers usually receive from $80 to $85 and $90; the reason why I do not receive more is because I have just been promoted; there are many jumps and jolts from here to Mineola; the master mechanic knows what we can do as engineers, and our qualifications; I have worked in the shop on the repairing of engines; there is no favoritism shown among mechanics in the employ of the road; I am not a machinist by trade; I was firing on a station in England; when the accident took place I saw the cars broken up and the people strewn about the track in a bad condition; the conductor came up, and I asked him if he had sent word to Jamaica, and he said "Yes;" I then ran my engine up to the manure train I saw at Queens ahead of me and brought the hands down to render assistance; I saw Van Nostrand first; he breathed his last just as I came up; the passengers I saw next but I did not know them; the next man I saw was a man so doubled up that I could not tell; the next I saw was a woman; she was badly wounded in the head; I saw a large man on the track; I did not see the infant; I saw Mr. Craig on the side of the embankment; when I returned from Queens nothing seemed to have been done; the large man was removed; I have run this Thurlow Weed engine about two months; I was in the habit of daily running her on the Northport train; she was lighter than other engines that passed over the road that morning; I did not know in regard to the weight of the last car; when we reach Northport the last car comes first to go out and return; the switcher in the yard makes up the train; it would make no difference whether the light car was first or last; I am not in the habit of indulging in intoxicating drinks; I was not subpœnaed; Mr. Barton said I might be wanted; I had no conversation with him about it; the track is better west of Jamaica than east of it; I observed no rails rattling on the track; I was at another accident on this road at Woodside about twelve months ago; I observed jolting on the road, and was easing speed over the jolts when the accident took place; the car injured was not as strong as a first-class car, and could not resist a shock as well; I don't know that this was a frail and delicate car; there are a number of old cars on the road; it was an old car refitted; (piece of rail shown witness;) one part of this rail looks like an old break and another part a fresh break; (showing chair;) this is an old break; I do not think that it would be safe to run a train over that piece of iron in that "chair."

Ephriam Baker, being sworn, testified as follows: I am employed as a fireman by the Long Island Railroad; have been employed for six months; I have lived at Flushing; this is my first experience in railroading; I was fireman on the Northport train at the time of the accident; the first we knew of it was a "jerk," and the bell cord broke; I looked out the window and saw a car off the track; I covered up my fires to keep the engine from getting warm; the engineer came up and said that there was a lot of killed and wounded back on the track; I did not know any of the killed except Van Nostrand, the brakeman; I did not recognize him at first; there were two brakemen on the train; usually have two for four cars; I saw Van Nostrand, and then returned to the engine and went to Queens; I can tell pretty near the rate of speed we were going; knew that the train was behind time; nothing was said between the engineer and myself before the time of the accident about making up lost time; we were going at the usual rate of speed, about twenty miles an hour; we usually make up for lost time between Jamaica and Westbury, because the track is smooth and there were two short stops; we usually kept up a good fire whether we were behind time or not; I never have been track repairer; do not know anything about track repairing; was a farmer before in Westport; the track between here and Hunter's Point is in good condition; the iron is new; the track is in pretty good condition; the engineer in my opinion is a very careful man; I receive $45 per month; I don't know what my engineer receives; engineers on this road generally receive from $70, $80 to $90 per month.

—— Smith, being sworn, testified as follows: I reside in Jamaica; I was at the place where the accident occurred on Friday afternoon, between five and six o'clock; I walked out on the track with a young man; when we started, we found the track in pretty good condition, until about half way to the scene of the disaster; I counted five ties, lying one after another, with no spike in them where the connection with the rail is made; the rail I saw was broken, and one endwas on the tie, and the other was not; then I went on to the Willow Tree Station, and I pointed to a spike that seemed loose; I pointed it out to Mr. O'Donnell, and he stooped down and pulled it out with his fingers; I went on to where the accident happened; the track had been relaid there; I saw where the car ran off; there were two spikes left on the outside of the "chair" where the spike was pulled out by Mr. O'Donnell; several ties had been laid out on the road very rotten, not fit to be used; men were there at work when we reached there; I could tell that new spikes had been put in; I am a farmer; live about two miles south of here; I am not in the habit of walking along that track; I found a number of the rails along there were mashed on top; I would not like to ride over the rails knowing such a state of facts; I would rather go on foot.

Edward A. Lawrence, called and sworn: I reside in Flushing; I was not at Jamaica at the day of the accident; I was at Jamaica the following morning; I visited the scene of the accident with other gentlemen; the track was being repaired at the time; the general appearance and condition at the time seemed good; I did not see any rotten tie in the road; I did not see any rotten rails; I saw a broken rail and went down and looked at it; I did not see a flaw in the iron; the rail thrown out had a piece out of it; I am not a machinist; I can make a wheelbarrow; I profess to be a practical man; have been a farmer and am an auctioneer; I came for fear of being subpœnaed.

At the conclusion of the testimony of the witness SMITH, the impression prevailed generally in the room that the accident was caused by the broken rail, and that as the piece shown was a fractured portion, and also shown to have been an old break, the cause of the accident could be directly traced to negligence on the part of the managers of the railroad. During the examination of the last witness Mr. CHARLICK, President of the road, entered the room, and with the Superintendent, Mr. BARTON, seemed to be eagerly inspecting the broken fragments of the rail. Taking that portion of the rail that the various witnesses had testified to as being unsafe, even if properly spiked with a sound "chair," Mr. CHARLICK said that it was not a portion of the main rail that was offered in evidence, but a new and foreign metal.

A SENSATION.

Mr. BARTON here rose and said that he wanted permission to prove to the jury that the piece of iron was not a portion of the broken rail.

Mr. O'DONNELL, foreman of the jury, objected to the receiving of evidence from a source likely to be interested in the matter, and the gentleman was not sworn.

The District-Attorney hoped that the jury would reject no light on the case, whatever source it came from. Both sides should have equal rights to be heard.

Mr. O'DONNELL disclaimed any intention of excluding anything that would be fair and impartial testimony, and if the railroad company had proof to offer the jury would listen.

Luther C. Voorhees, being sworn, gave the following testimony: I reside in the City of New-York; I have been railroading for the last fifteen years; I was two years and a half Superintendent of the New-York and Flushing Railroad; previous to that on the Northern Pennsylvania Railroad, and before that with the New-Jersey Central Railroad; I have been connected in various capacities—as ticket agent, road master, and conductor; I should judge that this piece of rail did not belong to the longer one; I should judge that the break now shown me was a clean break; (chair shown witness;) I should judge that this "chair" would hold the rail, if properly spiked; the iron of the two pieces do not match and the curve is not alike; (small piece shown witness;) the piece is an extreme end of a rail.

By a Juror—Would you consider the rail safe if it lay in a split chair? A.—Not safe in a split chair; not safe in a sound one either.

THE BROKEN RAILS.

The pieces of rail shown by the Coroner to the witnesses consist of one piece of about two feet long, torn and jagged at both ends, a smaller piece of about fifteen inches, and a little piece, also torn at both ends. (The one claimed to be not a portion of the rail by the railroad company is about six inches long, and is probably an end piece.)

CONDITION OF THE WOUNDED.

Mr. VAN GOSBECK lies in a very critical condition at Remsen's Hotel. His body is fearfully bruised, no less than thirty-two contusions appearing, irrespective of wounds upon his head. Fever has set in and his recovery is almost beyond hope. The young lady, Mrs. GRUMAN, of Oyster Bay, who was returning with her husband from a wedding tour, returned by carriage to her home fully recovered. The remainder of the wounded are at Willow Tree, well cared for.

STATEMENT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

Mr. BARTON, the Superintendent, stated that when he came to take charge of the road, eighteen months ago, the track and rolling stock were in very bad order, and since that time some fifty thousand ties were laid, and about three thousand tons of iron used. Men were at work on the track and road constantly as soon as the season permitted.

The inquest was adjourned until to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Fires.

A fire occurred yesterday morning in the fancy goods store, No. 262 Spring-street, occupied by Mrs. MARIA JOYCE. Loss $600; insured for $1,000 in the Rutgers Company. Another fire occurred yesterday in the store of MEYER ROSENBAUM, No. 218 Grand-street; damage slight. The flames were of incendiary origin. A fire broke out on Sunday evening in the woods at Fort George, at One Hundred and Ninety-fourth-street, between Tenth-avenue and Kingsbridge road. Sergeant ROVERS and a posse of officers of the Thirty-second Precinct extinguished the flames, when several acres had been burned over. The loss was not ascertained.

SPIRIT PHOTOGRAPHY.

Continuation of the Mumler Investigation—How Ghosts are Made—Testimony of Experts.

The investigation into the Mumler alleged spirit-photography case was continued yesterday, at the Tombs, before Justice DOWLING. As on the two previous occasions, the Court-room was crowded with anxious spectators. The proceedings were begun at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Gerry said he had been instructed that the defence desired to call an additional witness; if so, the People had no objection to his being examined.

Mr. Townsend, of counsel for the defence, said that the main witness for the prosecution, (Mr. Tooker,) upon whose affidavit these proceedings were based, was called by the defence for cross-examination and was dismissed from the stand; he would now like to have him recalled for further examination.

Mr. Gerry said that when he was informed that the defence desired to call another witness, he thought it was one who had not yet been on the stand. When the affidavit of the complainant was made it was printed, and the defence put in a very elaborate answer thereto. The defence had every opportunity, when Mr. Tooker was on the stand, to examine him at length, and they expressly stated they had no desire to examine any more witnesses for the prosecution. The time of the Court was valuable, and he could see no reason why the subject-matter of the first witness's testimony should be gone all over again.

Judge Dowling said that if witnesses were to be continually recalled in this manner, the investigation would be made interminable. He could not consent to Mr. Tooker's being now further examined.

Mr. Townsend asked if the prosecution proposed to prove their view of the case on scientific principles, whether the defence would be allowed to produce testimony in rebuttal.

Judge Dowling said that this examination should take the same course as all other examinations.

Mr. Gerry then offered in evidence a pamphlet printed this year, given to Mr. Tooker at Mumler's gallery, and purporting to contain certificates as to the genuineness of the spirit-photographs taken by that gentleman.

After objection being made by Mr. Townsend, the pamphlet was admitted in evidence.

The prosecution then called Mr. Charles W. Hull, who, being affirmed, said that he resided in Sixty-first-street, opposite the East River; is a soap manufacturer; had paid particular attention to the science of photography for the past eleven years; has a complete photographic establishment at his house; has written many scientific articles concerning it; some of these have been translated into other languages; knows hundreds of photographers; is a member of the photographic section of the American Institute; has been on committees of investigation into the science of photography; has seen the photographs put in evidence by the defence; (a number of these were here shown to witness;) knows processes by which these effects could be produced mechanically; (witness was asked to describe these processes;) one was by placing in the plate-shield a positive picture on glass, the image of which could be thrown on the sensitive plate at the same time the image of the sitter was thrown on it; the shadowy form, in such case, would be an exact resemblance of the positive picture, such as on exhibit No. 1; (here shown;) the figure would be vague and indistinct, according as the space between the two plates in the camera was greater or lesser; two figures would appear on the development of the plate; (witness was here asked to pick out from among the spirit pictures put in evidence by the defence such as could be produced in this manner; he selected those known as exhibits Nos. 1, 4, 5, 6, 7, 9, 10, 13, 14 and 16;) The others might be produced by another process; the operator might, by using a little dexterity, adjust the position of the negative so as to put the shadowy form wherever he pleased on the sensitized plate; the figure is always reversed when it appears on the plate; the same effect is produced on the retina of the human eye, but the brain combines the two images, and causes the object impressed on the retina to appear in its real position; (exhibit No. 1. here shown;) in this, the so-called spirit must have been forward of the sitter; (exhibit No. 14 shown;) the so-called spirit figure here was on the positive plate, which was placed in front of the negative, because there is nothing intervening on the picture between the sitter and the sensitive plate; (another shown;) this shadow can be taken in the same manner; (another photograph was shown, the purported ghost on which the witness said could be taken by a process known as second printing;) a veiled figure, seated behind the speaker for an instant, might produce the same effect; this is Sir David Brewster's method of producing these forms; another process is by putting a microscopic negative in the lens; it need not be more than a quarter of an inch in diameter; such a ghost-picture would be indistinct; by the expertness of the operator the shadow can be made to appear on the person of the sitter; Exhibits Nos. 13 and 14 for the defence might be so produced; another process is by using a glass positive, and holding it between the negative and a gas-light, or a ray of daylight; another by second printing from a dried prepared plate; this plate may be carried from place to place and used afterward; the drying is done by dipping the plate in a solution of tannin; a plate so prepared may be kept for three years ready for use; it is possible that the positive might present to the eye no visible image, and, on being exposed to the sensitive plate, the image which really was there would be impressed on it; all the so-called spirit photographs shown to witness could be produced in this way; the existence of these effects is known generally to the photographic profession. [Witness here narrated how in once instance when taking a landscape view, a phantom railroad train appeared on his picture, caused by the accidental exposure of the sensitive plate to a dried plate having the railroad picture upon it.] Had seen the defendant, Mumler; he never offered to witness for $500 to take spirit photographs in any gallery other than his own, that witness might designate. [Mr. Gerry offered to show that this proposition was made by Mr. Guay and accepted by the witness, and that Guay subsequently declined its execution. The Court overruled the testimony.] Know Mr. Mason, the photographer; was present when he took pictures having ghostly forms on them by mechanical processes.

Cross-examined by Mr. Townsend—Follow photographic investigations for pleasure simply; have been engaged in all branches of the science; have taken spirit-pictures by mechanical means; was not told what I would be expected to swear to on this examination. (The witness here rehearsed his description of the processes, as given above.) I have no spirit-pictures of my own taking with me; there are some of them in Court, I think; I have taken so-called spirit photographs by means of a positive picture placed in the camera back of the sensitive plate, which is to receive the picture of the sitter; the position and appearance of the ghost-pictures would depend mainly upon the color of the positive; this process could be carried out in the presence of an expert photographer, intent on discovering the fraud; in my opinion, the pictures shown (some of those produced at Mumler's gallery) can be produced by the process I have mentioned. [A number of pictures taken by the witness, each having a bogus ghost on it, was here shown and the mode of taking them explained. The negative of Exhibit No. 4 was here shown, and the witness asked whether a second form like that of the spirit photograph could be produced by means of painting in India ink. He replied that it might be done, but he could not say that in this case it had been done.] No expert, unless he held my hands, could detect me in taking spirit pictures by the process I have described; it would be easy in any gallery to deceive even an expert; I have humbugged several persons in this way; I took the ghost of Dr. Bronson on the portrait of a lady, the ghost of a lady on Mr. Brennan's photograph, and the ghost of somebody else on Dr. Bronson's photograph; I can humbug any one in my dark room; if an expert can swear that there was only one plate in the shield at the time of taking the picture, then one of the theories adduced by witness would fall to the ground; the merest fraction of time would be sufficient for a human figure to stand behind a sitter to produce a shadowy figure on the plate; if a hand is holding a bouquet in front of the sitter, and no palpable object is between him and the camera, the person to whom the hand belongs must be behind him; in that case the sitter must be conscious the human figure is there; if he is thus conscious then another of the theories adduced by witness would, in his opinion, fall to the ground. Witness assisted Mr. Mason in taking the photographs shown; we did not attract the attention of the persons watching us from our operations; we told them that we proposed to humbug them, and did so in spite of all their efforts; they followed us from beginning to end of the operation, going into the dark room, &c.; I called on Mumler on Saturday with four friends; we asked him to go out to some other gallery; Mr. Guay said Mr. Mumler would go for $500; we offered to give that amount, but he did not go out; we had that amount of money; we went there to expose the trick, and were given no chance to do so; I believe in the existence of many things I cannot see; believe in a Divine Being, and in the existence of the pyramids, though I have never seen them; I would be sorry to think that all the knowledge of this world was within my limited capacity.

Charles Rice, assistant druggist at Bellevue Hospital, testified: I have seen spirit-photographs taken by Mason within two days; first the plate was washed and dried, and tested as to its cleanliness; then the collodion was poured on and the plate placed in the camera; I was the sitter; as soon as the picture was taken, I went into the dark room and saw it developed; I knew there would be some trick about it, because I was told so, but I could not discover any; when the picture came out it contained a ghost photograph; I am one of the parties humbugged by Mr. Mason and Mr. Hull; lately, since 1867, I have studied photography, and have taken about one hundred photographs; I have frequently spoken of spiritual photography as a humbug; on the second or third sitting I was told about one part of the trickery; this was the double-plate plan; afterward I saw a single plate put in the camera, and saw a spirit picture produced from it.

Dr. Fry, Apothecary of Bellevue Hospital, testified that he sat to Mr. Mason for his photograph, and that when it came out of the camera there was another figure on it besides his own; afterward closely watched Mr. Mason taking spirit pictures, but could discover no trick; had only a theoretical knowledge of photography.

Oscar G. Mason was the next witness. He testified that he was Secretary of the Photographic Branch of the American Institute; have examined spirit photographs and have taken them as well; in the photographs shown the effect was produced by taking the negative of a lady and making a positive of it; this was subsequently used in making a spirit-picture on a photograph; the final effect is produced by a single plate; there are several methods of doing this thing; it is very easy to deceive almost any one; the distinctness of the spirit-photographs depends upon the position of the positive entirely. (The witness here entered at length into a description of the various means used by photographers to produce ghostly effects, explaining the thing practically by a small camera which had been brought into Court. He described also one of his own processes in which the negative used was a piece of transparent mica having a figure upon it. He showed how by manipulating this with dexterity the impression of the figure on it could be made on the sensitive plate and thus produce a ghost. His exposition of the matter created much merriment. His testimony as to the other processes was mainly corroborative of that given by Mr. Hull.)

After the direct examination of this witness the investigation was adjourned till Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Union College Alumni Dinner.

The large dining-hall at Delmonico's will be filled this evening by the graduates of this long and favorably known institution. Like reunions will be held simultaneously in Rochester, Chicago, Buffalo, Albany and Troy. No higher praise can be awarded a college than this evidence of the fealty and affection of her children. We have no doubt that the reunion and dinner will be full of enjoyment and be remembered as one of the happiest occasions of a lifetime. The dinner begins at 6 precisely.

The Ship Richard Robinson Libeled.

The cruelties which were practiced on the sailors of the ship Richard Robinson by their officers while at sea, an account of which was published in the TIMES of Saturday last, appears to have been of the most atrocious and barbarous character, presenting many features analogous to the case of the ship James Foster, Jr. Captain WILLIAM H. ROBINSON and Chief Mate RICHARD HOFFMAN were the authors of all the sufferings. Capricious and brutal in their conduct toward their subordinates, they continually kept them in a state of fever and anxiety, and made the vessel a perfect pandemonium with their drunken carousals and savage deportment. FREDERICK JENSEN, a native of Hamburg, experienced the worst treatment from them. On one occasion they maltreated him in a shameful manner simply because he refused to characterize the vessel as a good ship. On the arrival of the Richard Robinson at this port the seamen promptly consulted Messrs. SMITH and ROWNAN, proctors and advocates, at No. 4 Chambers-street, with a view to having the culprits arrested. Both officers were sought for with warrants for their arrest, but with unsuccessful result. They are still fugitives, although strenuous efforts are being made to apprehend them. HOFFMAN, the chief mate, is believed to be concealed in Williamsburg, where he resides when on land, but the Captain, thus far, has eluded all the measures for his detection. Yesterday the lawyers and officers libeled or seized the Richard Robinson for wages due the sailors, expecting the Captain, whose father is owner of the vessel, would make his appearance for the purpose of contesting the claim. The case will be tried in the Marine Court to compel the Captain or owner of the ship to pay damages, which are held at a large amount. A criminal action will also be entered into in one of the United States Courts.

Frightful Death of a Woman.

At Foster's Meadow, near Jamaica, L. I., the house of a Mrs. NEWMAN took fire yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, and before the neighbors could render assistance the building was reduced to ashes. It was believed that Mrs. NEWMAN had perished in the flames, but late in the afternoon she was found in the well, her garments burned and her body scarred. It is presumed that her dress taking fire she plunged into the well to extinguish the flames. She lived but a few moments after being rescued.

LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF.

New-York.

This (Tuesday) evening Rev. JOHN HALL, D. D., will deliver a new lecture on "Struggles for Freedom" in the Lexington-avenue Church, corner of Forty-sixth-street, (Rev. Dr. SANDERSON'S.)

On Sunday night Officer FALLON, of the Twenty-first Precinct, saw two well-known thieves in Thirty-second-street, near First-avenue, carrying a bundle. He ordered them to stop, but as they paid no heed to his summons he fired his revolver at the fugitives, the bullet taking effect in the shoulder of JAMES DUGAN, one of the suspected men. In his possession was found a suit of clothes and other property, which had been stolen from the office of JAMES R. WHITING & Co., at the foot of East Thirty-second-street. DUGAN is now at Bellevue Hospital. His alleged confederate, HENRY OTTENBURG, was subsequently arrested.

THOMAS MEAGHER, TIMOTHY RYAN and THOMAS BOLES were arrested on Sunday at the instance of MR. HENZEL, proprietor of the Central-avenue Hotel, Tremont. It appears that the prisoners assaulted and fatally injured CHARLES BROOKS at the hotel, and they were traced to the City by the complainant. The men were sent back to Tremont for examination.

The schooner Eliza J. Staples, which arrived at this port yesterday from Demerara, had on board a South American tiger, besides a large number of monkeys and birds, sent by the United States Consul to the Central Park Commissioners. The collection is a very rare one, great pains having been taken to secure only those species which are not ordinarily to be found in public museums.

MAURICE LEONARD was tried at the Court of General Sessions yesterday for robbing BENEDICT'S jewelry store in Broadway, on the 8th of February. Several witnesses, however, swore to an alibi, and the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty.

JAMES GALLAGHER and JOSEPH H. MATHEWS were committed for trial yesterday by Justice DODGE for stealing shoes at a fire in West Twenty-seventh-street, on Sunday evening.

WM. HOFFMAN, of No. 34 Rose-street, was assaulted in Chatham-street early yesterday morning by three young men, who stabbed him in the arm. JAMES O'CONNOR, CHARLES MCCABE and WM. CREIGHTON were subsequently arrested by Officer BUFORD, of the Fourth Ward, and on being arraigned before the Magistrate were released by him.

NELLIE KING, of No. 56 Robinson-street, made oath yesterday before the Magistrate that on the evening of the 24th inst. she was accosted by Officer CONNOR, of the Twenty-fifth Precinct, who asked her where she was going, and that she told him she was going home. The officer kept following her and wanted her to go with him to a house in Thirteenth-street, and subsequently to another house of ill-repute in Elizabeth-street, when she refused. CONNOR followed her constantly until they reached the corner of Grand and Elizabeth streets, when NELLIE spoke to RICHARD CONWAY, of No. 190 Grand-street. CONNOR then came up and assaulted CONWAY, and arrested him without any cause or provocation. This affidavit was made by NELLIE in support of a complaint preferred by CONWAY against CONNOR, accusing him of willful assault, and as a set off against a previous charge of disorderly conduct, which had fallen to the ground on examination. CONNOR was arrested on a warrant issued by the Magistrate, who held him for trial and allowed him to give bail.

WM. B. LAWRENCE, of No. 21 Mercer-street, gave to CHARLES NAPIER, an errand boy, on the 14th inst., a sealed envelope containing $20, and addressed to ANDREW J. SMITH, Collector of Tax Arrears. The boy made a mistake and delivered the letter to THOS. E. FORAN, clerk for JOHN W. SMITH, who has an office in the same building, at the corner of Beekman and Nassau streets. FORAN is alleged to have opened the note and failed to return the money. On this he was arrested yesterday, and being arraigned before the Magistrate, was fully identified by the errand boy. He was held to bail for trial.

SARAH NATHAN, of No. 99 Hester-street, states that on Saturday evening, between 7 and 8 o'clock, being in the basement of her house she heard a noise overhead, and upon going into the parlor to ascertain the cause found two men there. She immediately cried out "thief," and one of the men dealing her a powerful blow in the face as they ran, both men fled from the house. Making a hasty examination of the room, she found that the burglars had effected an entrance by forcing open the shutters of the back window, and that before she had interrupted them they had thoroughly ransacked the room, and had made up a bundle of clothing worth $50, which, however, they did not have time to take with them, and that the sole spoils they had gained were $16 in money they had found in a bureau drawer. Having ascertained these facts, she notified the Police, and Officer HOGG, of the Tenth Precinct, arrested one JAMES TURNER, whom she fully identified as the man who had struck her. He denied that he had been in the house, but was committed in default of $1,000 bail for trial at the General Sessions.

Sunday evening, about 7 o'clock, there was a fire in the shoe shop of ADAM PETH, No. 269 West Twenty-seventh-street, and as usual on such occasions the stock in the place was hurriedly thrown into the street, and very many more persons than were necessary volunteered to aid in the proceedings. Among these volunteers were JAMES GALLAGHER and JOSEPH H. MATHEWS, whose zeal attracted the special attention of Officers TIMS and STUART, of the Sixteenth Precinct, who finally became convinced that PETH would never realize anything on the stock they should save, and finally arrested them for stealing. GALLAGHER had made sure of saving one pair of shoes by putting them on his feet, and MATHEWS had been equally determined as to several other pairs which he had upon his person. The prisoners were committed in default of $1,000 bail each for trial at the General Sessions. Both denied dishonest intentions, and were sure that they had been intent only on saving the stock for PETH's benefit.

MICHAEL SELLS, a new arrival in the City, passed through Beaver-street at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, when he were assaulted by several men, who took from his person $10. SELLS gave an alarm, and summoned Officers FLANNIGAN and JOHN, of the Twenty-seventh Precinct, who succeeded in arresting PATRICK CLANCY and MICHAEL FREEL, who was identified by SELLS as the principal actors in the robbery. The prisoners, on being arraigned being the Magistrate, were fully committed for trial at the General Sessions, in default of $2,000 bail each. The papers were forwarded to the Grand Jury in order that the complainant might be soon released from the House of Detention by a speedy trial.

As Spring advances, the votaries of fashion throng our thoroughfares, arrayed in picturesque habiliments. The most distingue of these members of the beau monde, it has been ascertained by close and constant scrutiny, are those gentlemen who proudly upbear the superb hats of KNOX, No. 212 Broadway, corner of Fulton-st. The present style of KNOX'S head gear may truly be called nonpareil.

VELOCIPEDE PATENT SUITS.
Makers of Velocipedes are notified that my patents of 1862, 1863, 1864 and reissue of 1869 cover the making, using and sale of ALL TWO-WHEEL VELOCIPEDES using the crank-axle in the driving wheel and treadles on the crank shaft, the arrangement of a saddle or other suitable seat for the rider to sit in an upright position, and by his feet on the crank-axle propel the velocipede or vehicle, and the use of the steering-fork with cross-head. All velocipedes using these devices with two, three or four wheels, are described and secured by my patents. Licenses and stamps may be obtained of me, and will be defended. Suits have been commenced, and all infringers will be vigorously prosecuted.
Velocipedes made by my licenses at factory prices.
